Skilled Labor for the Master. By Bishop E. R. Hendrix. 12mo. $1.25.

The author in his Foreword says of this book: "It is designed to stimulate and save from arrested development any whose ideals are less than the highest. It was the great and devout Olin who said: 'Not to study is only less wicked in a preacher than not to pray.' It was a wise maxim which Bengel gave to the preacher: 'Apply your whole self to your subject and your whole subject to yourself.'"

Bishop Galloway says: "This is a timely and thought-provoking book, written with a holy purpose and sure of a wide and a beneficent mission. It was born in the heart of an earnest and able minister and of his divine concern for the larger usefulness and deeper consecration of his brethren and fellow laborers. One cannot escape the impression that some fervent paragraphs were penned when the devout author was sitting very close to the feet of his Lord."

The International Graded Lessons.

They consist of a special series of lessons for each grade in the Sunday school. These lessons for each grade are selected especially for that grade so as to fit their mental capacity, appeal to their interest, and meet their spiritual needs. These lessons are given us by the same Lesson Committee that selects the Uniform Lessons, and are just as truly "international" as the Uniform Lessons. In other words, the International Lesson Committee now gives us our choice of two series of lessons: The International Uniform (ungraded) Lessons, which we have used in the past, and the new International Graded Lessons. The International Lesson Committee does not prepare any helps or notes or comments of any kind on these lessons. This is left entirely to each denomination. All that the committee does is to select the Scripture passage, title, and Golden Text, just as it has always done. Then each denomination prepares its own helps and comments on the lesson. This gives each denomination the opportunity to teach its own special doctrines.

Uniform International Series

Sunday School Literature

Adopted by Our Church and Published by Our Own Publishing House

Edited by REV. E. B. CHAPPELL, D.D. REV. L. F. BEATY, Assistant

aided by a well-selected corps of popular and trained writers, making every phase of the work equal to that published by any denomination and providing a series of excellent and popular literature for Sunday schools.

The Uniform Series is graded to suit each class in the Sunday school and amply provides for the wants of the youngest as well as of the most advanced scholar.

The lessons are taken from the Scriptures, and the illustrations are mostly from Biblical scenes.

The International Uniform Series is universally popular, is now and has been for years acceptably used, not only by our own, but by nearly every Christian denomination.

The lessons are not difficult for the teacher or pupil and are in every way suitable and adaptable to the requirements of the small as well as the large and modern-equipped schools.

If your Sunday school is in need of this class of good literature, we have it for you and will be pleased to serve you. Samples and price list sent on application.

THE SPECTATOR COMPANY

THE SPECTATOR COMPANY are the sole agents in the United States for the old-established and well-known house of Charles & Edwin Layton, of London, England, whose publications on fire, life and marine insurance, annuities friendly and building societies, etc., are among the most valuable and standard treatises ever issued.

THE INSURANCE CYCLOPÆDIA.

By the late CORNELIUS WALFORD, F.I.A., F.S.S., Barrister-at-Law, author of THE INSURANCE GUIDE AND HAND-BOOK, INSURANCE YEAR BOOK, etc. This work is the result of many years of labor, supplemented by the facilities furnished its author by long practical experience and rare adaptation to the task he had undertaken. It is a Dictionary of the definition of terms used in connection with the theory and practice of insurance. A Biographical Summary of the lives of all those who have contributed to the development of insurance. A Bibliographical Summary of all works written upon the subject of insurance and its associate sciences. An Historical Treasury of Insurance; and finally it gives a Detailed Account of the Rise and Progress of Insurance in Europe and America. By a special arrangement with the author, THE SPECTATOR COMPANY possess the copyright for the United States, and are the exclusive publishers of the work in this country. Eight parts make a volume of about the size of an ordinary law book of 700 pages. Parts 1 to 41 (making Vols. I. to V. inclusively, and one part of Vol. VI.) had been issued up to date, which completes the work to letters HERE. The death of Mr. Walford brought this, his greatest work, to an end at this point, but the volumes already printed are invaluable to insurance men.

SPECIAL OFFER.

The English publishers of this most valuable work recently reduced the price of the Cyclopædia (as far as published) considerably below the usual selling price, for a limited period only, in order to gain warehouse space. Price, Five Volumes and Part I. of Volume VI. (express charges to be paid by purchaser), $10.50.

Publications of the British Fire Prevention Committee

The "British Fire Prevention Committee" of London has undertaken the publication of a series of pamphlets for the purpose of directing public attention to the protection of life and property from fire. Recent experiences in great conflagrations have aroused public feeling abroad to an unusual degree upon the subject of fires, and the press, fire underwriters, legislators, and individuals have united to point out the perils that exist in the faulty construction of buildings in the old cities of Europe and the lack of proper means of protection from conflagrations. The "British Fire Prevention Committee" is doing much to educate the public in this regard and the series of pamphlets it has issued or has in preparation are valuable contributions for the purpose in view.

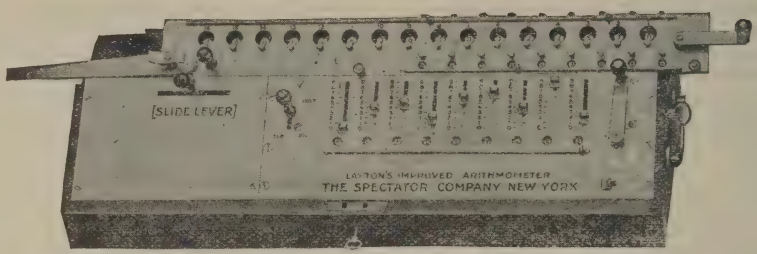
Layton's Improved Arithmometer

Standard Lightweight Machine



A Perfected Calculating Machine of Established Reputation

The value and importance of a first-class and trustworthy calculating machine to actuaries, statisticians, accountants and others dealing with mathematical problems has long been conceded. Such a machine is a great labor and time saver, while the relief it affords from wearying brain work is incalculable.

LAYTON'S IMPROVED ARITHMOMETER

fills all the requirements of such a machine, and the large number in use bear daily testimony to their effectiveness. Insurance companies find this machine of particular value in their daily work and during the many years the original model has been in use it has given universal satisfaction. Valuable improvements in the new model, adding greatly to its efficiency, coupled with the high quality of its workmanship, make this the best and most advanced calculating machine on the market. The above illustration fairly shows its construction and method of operation.

IMPORTANT FEATURES INTRODUCED IN THE NEW MODEL

Lightness.—Without in any way impairing the strength, durability, or reliability of the machine it has been found possible to produce an Arithmometer of one half the weight of the ordinary model which is, therefore, much more convenient to carry No alteration has been made in the size or shape of the instrument. The metal is non-rusting and not affected by acids. It is, therefore, particularly suitable for hot or wet climates. Machines constructed of this metal work with the minimum of noise and are light running.

The Markers.—Hitherto markers have been set to the figures required, one by one, and have been returned to zero in like manner. The new invention allows these operations to be performed as before; but, in addition, a button is provided, on pressing which, all the markers return to zero at once. Thus, several operations are combined most conveniently in one, and a fruitful source of error to following calculations avoided. The working parts of this device makes it almost impossible for a marker to rest between two figures.

Show Holes in connection with the last invention have been added, so that the figures can be more quickly set by the markers and more easily checked.

The Slide Lever.—To move the slide in previous models of the Arithmometer required two distinct movements, viz.: to raise and to propel. By means of an arrangement now invented, this double movement is performed by simply pulling a lever. The slide can be moved in either direction and automatically falls into its correct position.

The Regulator.—Hitherto the handle has been actuated by the left hand, which is also needed for the slide. In practice this has been found to be inconvenient, particularly when the short method of multiplication is used. The new invention provides a method by which the Regulator can be controlled by the right hand, as well as by the left hand as hitherto.

Decimal Markers.—Bars with sliding indicators have been added to each series of figures in place of the loose pegs hitherto provided for decimal points.

Minor Improvements will be found in the clutch arrangement to the left of the slide, in the greater lope given to the machine and in the design of the case.

PRICE OF LAYTON'S IMPROVED ARITHMOMETER

Machine Giving Sixteen Figures in Product, $300

Responsible corporations and individuals may order this machine on 10 days' trial.

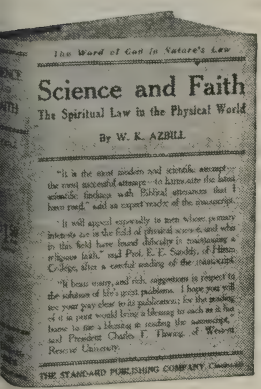
AZBILL, W. K.

Science and Faith

The Spiritual Law in the Physical World.

Cloth, 8vo, illustrated. Price, postpaid, $1.50.



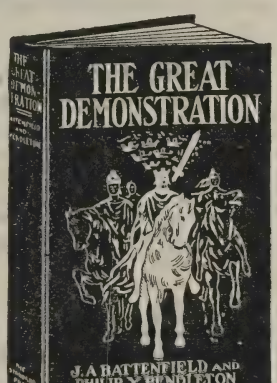
The author of this work was equipped by experience as minister, educator and missionary for a broad and varied view of the relations of science and religion. His scientific studies in particular led him to examination of the most recent discoveries in the realm of nature. He has kept his mind open to the progress of thought in all matters affecting our knowledge of the world. Questions such as that of the ether of space, of matter and electricity, of the nature of gravitation and the ultimate causes of planetary motion, of the essence of life, as well as its terrestrial functions and higher possibilities, have claimed his careful attention, and he has not shrunk from considering the most radical theories advanced regarding them. Among these stand the assumption hat there is an almighty life (inclusive, of course, of a mind) ehind the world, and that it alone can serve as the ground nd solution of its facts and phenomena. Mechanistic heories of the universe such as that of Prof. Jacques Loeb re, according to him, inconsistent with the very results i the scientific sphere reached by their advocates.—The ontinent.

ATTENFIELD, J. A., and PENDLETON, P. Y.

The Great Demonstration

The Master Key to Prophecy.

A large 8vo volume, andsomely bound in red loth, with symbolic over design and an emlematic paper wrapper, early 500 pages, with any charts and diarams. Price, postpaid, 2.00.



The word of God is the nly basis from which man ay comprehend the world's resent movements. This asterly interpretation of the spired lines of prophecy luminates present events. "The Great Demonstraon" is an interpretation of ie self-evident correctness f the prophecies, easily unerstood by all.

AYNE, MARY ADDAMS

Bluegrass and Wattle; or, The Man from Australia

Illustrated, decorated cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 1.25.

A novel that deals, with unusual vigor and power, with the religious unbelief of the day and its cure. The hero—with the glowing confidence and sublime faith of youth—enters the university with high ideals and undaunted purposes. Here his faith is chilled by the sophistries of the New Theology. The plot is an account of his wanderings in the mazes of this form of infidelity, and his final redemption.

"The charm of its unsullied love story, its unique plot, playful humor, its Christian breadth of view and its skillful portrayal of social and religious conditions, ake this book a captivating piece of literature."—Cynthiana emocrat.

A Centennia. Story of Cane Ridge.

Illustrated, cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A wholesome story of pioneer days in Kentucky. With consummate skill this talented writer has woven into the narrative a romance of unusual charm and beauty. The book gives, with photographic accuracy, the customs and manners, the hardships and sacrifices of frontier life. It is a story that will sustain interest and awaken in the reader all that is true and good, for it is a direct challenge to practice that which is worth while.

BENTLEY, W. P.

Illustrious Chinese Christians

A Brief Treatise on the Customs, Superstitions and Religions of the Chinese People.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A stimulating and thought-provoking treatise on the efficiency of the gospel in China. It is very doubtful whether or not there is any record of devotion or self-sacrifice in either profane or sacred history that this fascinating series of twenty-two Chinese biographies will not parallel. The persecutions and martyrdom which these Chinese converts suffered will inspire real missionary enthusiasm and create apostolic activity in any community where this book is circulated.

BOOK, W. H.

Columbus Tabernacle Sermons, Vol. I.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

The gospel is always attractive when presented by W. H. Book. It is a message that never fails to quicken into action the reader's mind and heart. This author's well-known powers of oratory, his profound grasp of the teachings of Jesus and his apostles, his fearlessness in condemning wrong and error, his virile, forceful style and his unique personality, are well preserved in every line. These sermons were not written in a study, but were stenographically reported as the burning words were uttered by this master preacher, under the inspiration of the great audience which flocks to hear him every week.

Columbus Tabernacle Sermons, Vol. II.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

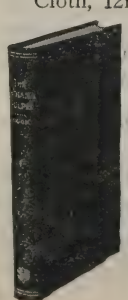
A companion volume to the author's first book of sermons. Reported in the same way and published because of the unusual demand the first volume created.

"I pronounce W. H. Book's second 'Tabernacle Sermons' the strongest and most Scriptural our people have ever produced. The second book follows logically in order, being directed to the church-member, and treats of great spiritual themes that build the church up and feed the flock. It should be in every minister's library who aspires to be a preacher with power."—D. R. Dungan.

The Indiana Pulpit

Edited by W. H. Book.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.



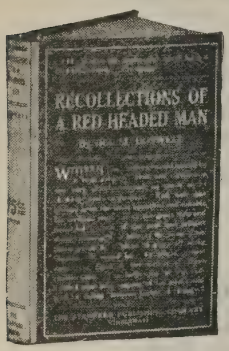
This series of twenty-two practical sermons, each discourse being the best one preached by as many leading Indiana preachers, presents vital Christianity in a most attractive way. The author has condensed, with unusual discrimination and taste, the message of such widely known preachers as Z. T. Sweeney, James Small, T. J. Legg, etc. A photograph and brief biography of each contributor precedes every chapter.

"'The Indiana Pulpit' will be especially helpful to young preachers. The topics are varied and the discourses are from men of learning and experience. It will make each one who reads it better, and it will strengthen the faith of all who carefully peruse its pages."—George A. Miller.

BOSWELL, IRA M.

The Recollections of a Red-headed Man

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.



Here is something new under the sun—a really humorous work. Not since the publishing of Bill Nye's famous "History of the United States" has there appeared a book containing more spontaneous wit and homely philosophy. Its laughable anecdotes and quaint humor make it a book that will be read over and over again with an ever-increasing delight.

"I thank you for the loan of the MS., "Recollections of a Red-headed Man." I read it, and I must say that I am indebted to you for one of the most enjoyable afternoons I have ever spent. It is better than "Mark Twain" or "Bill Nye."—B. M. Crabtree.

It helps folks to appreciate that they live in a world of humor. It is splendidly written, and is one of the best aids for digestion I have found.—P. H. Welshimer, Canton, O.

BOTELER, MATTIE M.

Joe Binder's Wild Westing

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

Few books can claim superiority to this one in its sure appeal to the average boy. It deals with the things that boys are deeply interested in, such as Indians and buffalo hunting. With characteristic charm this gifted author tells the experiences of three boys who felt they must save the country by killing off all the Indians and buffaloes. The story of the rise and fall of their ambitions will teach the boy many valuable lessons while thoroughly entertaining him.

Like as We Are

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A charming narrative of the fishing regions of the Northeast. Seldom has a story of unswerving devotion to high principle and sublime self-sacrifice been told with greater power. The hero—a gifted young man—resolutely turns his back upon the avenues that tend to wealth and luxury to use his exceptional talent in converting an out-of-the-way fishing-camp. This story embodies the high ideals and noble purposes so necessary to hold up before the youth of this pleasure-loving and materialistic age.

The Evolution of Juliet

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

In this delightful story the reader will find a positive solution to one of the great questions of the day. The heroine—an unsophisticated orphan country girl—goes into the city to carve out her future. Miss Boteler tells the history of the evolution of her ideals and her complete redemption from the snares that beset her way. It demonstrates, as few stories have ever done better, the redeeming power of Christianity. The transformation of this simple country girl into a noble Christian woman, in the face of the forces of evil, can not fail to prove an absorbing story which will warn and direct as well as entertain its youthful readers.

Shut In

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

This realistic recital of the victorious conquest of the Cross over the world and its allurements is told with genuine charm and graphic power. The transformation of Phyllis Ensign from a social butterfly into a self-sacrificing Christian worker will enlist the sympathies and compel attention to the very last. The laws governing social redemption and individual salvation are clearly set forth—making this story one of more than usual merit and interest.

The Conversion of Brian O'Dillon

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A heart-searching story of regeneration. Dealing, as it does, with life's deepest emotions, it is a tale that is heart-touching in its appeal. It presents a masterly analysis of human error and its remedy. It is an unusual human-interest narrative that will meet the largest demands of the reader's intellect and heart. Seldom has New Testament Christianity been so well set forth in the form of fiction.

(Former title, "Side Windows")

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A valuable ready-reference compendium of original, fo ful and apt illustrations for the busy preacher, Sun School teacher and religious worker. A carefully prepared topical in and alphabetically arranged table of contents add greatly its usefulness. Its distinct value is that the author followed the example of the great Teacher in illustrat profound truths by examples familiar to all. "I found illustration that was well worth the price of the book. S. M. Bernard.

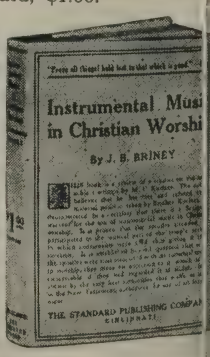
BRINEY, J. B.

Instrumental Music in Christian Worship

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

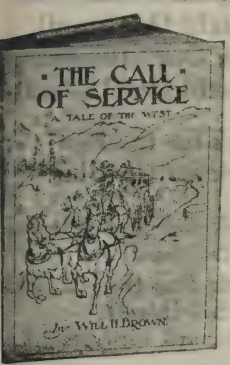


This book is a review and refutation of "Instrumental Music in the Worship," by M. C. Kurfees. The author demonstrates a Scripture warrant for the use of instrumental music in Christian worship. That the apostles attended and participated in the musical part of the temple services in which instruments were used, thus giving it their sanction, is clearly shown. Quotations of leading authorities prove beyond refutation that psallo, as used in the New Testament, authorizes the use of an instrument.

"Instrumental music in the worship is a subject that I have examined carefully from both standpoints. I must say your work upon this theme is the strongest, greatest and most complete vindication of the affirmative side I have ever seen." Jas. A. Stevens, Burnet, Tex.

BROWN, W. H.

The Call of Service



Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

This vigorous story of the far West and its pulsing life can not fail to appeal to all red-blooded readers. His work is an arsenal of facts that fully meet the arguments of those defending these childish superstitions. It is doubtful if any other book on the subject proves more conclusively that Catholicism is built upon the shifting sands of error and ignorance.

The Authorship of Deuteronomy

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

The Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch is fully vindicated in this work. Bible critics all agree that the issue finally rests with the Book of Deuteronomy. Combating the boastful claims and "assured results" of the destructive conclusions reached by modern infidelity, President McGarvey not only proves that Moses may have written the book, but that he alone could possibly have written it, and at the dictation of Jehovah. All lovers of the Bible ought to thoroughly digest this work, both for their own peace and that they may be able to point out the errors of those who oppose it.

McGARVEY, J. W., and PENDLETON, P. Y.

The Fourfold Gospel

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

A harmony of the four Gospels, so arranged as to form a complete chronological life of Christ, divided into titled sections and subdivisions, with comments interjected in the text. In preparing this work, there has been no sparing of time, labor or expense. The American Revised Version has been used, and the author, in collaboration with P. Y. Pendleton, has carefully avoided all conceits, quibblings and useless refinements, and has studied to present only that which is useful, helpful and practical. It has not been the aim to produce a commentary for the textual critic, the theologian or the professor, but a plain and simple guide-book for every-day readers of God's word.

Biblical Criticism

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

In this series of short essays on modern criticism, this eminent Biblical scholar has prepared a remarkable defense of the Bible. The clear thinking and keen analysis that are so characteristic of all Mr. McGarvey's writings are here found in their highest form. His inexorable logic tears off the mask of learning from the utterances of the enemies of the Bible, reveals their sophistries and upholds the integrity of the Scriptures in a most able way. Nowhere has this noted author employed his wit, sarcasm and Biblical knowledge so effectively as in this book. It should be in the household of every believer for constant reference.

Sermons

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

The great sermons of a great preacher. They are models of homiletic effort, strong, able and instructive. They deal with practical, vital themes which can not fail to interest every Bible reader. His profound sympathy with their message, his childlike faith and his keenly analytic mind made him one of the foremost preachers of his day. This volume happily preserves all these qualities for the use of future generations. Every preacher will gain invaluable inspiration from this master of pulpit oratory.

Studies in the Epistle to the Hebre
Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A new, emphasized translation, with critical and exposit notes.

"The title of this little book modestly indicates its quan and quality. 'Studies in' rather than a 'commentary and 'studies' rather than oracular pronouncements. And the author in the use of that word 'studies' has accurat described his book, and has employed the finest word poss for all dealing with Scripture. It is at once saintly scholarly, reverent and bold. It is a rich, if brief, con bution to the exposition of one of the most fascinating bo of the New Testament."—G. Campbell Morgan.

Let Us Keep the Feast
Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.

"It may add to the interest of the readers of these chapt to know that they are the last written words of the earn Bible student whose name they bear. During the last months of his life the writer of these chapters enjoyed short period of leisure. About this time a friend lent h two large volumes containing a summary of the teach regarding the Lord's Supper, from the first century to own times. As a result, there followed a series of courses, delivered on Lord's Day morning, and once aga by desire, the pen was taken in hand to condense into p manent form the substance of the spoken addresses." Foreword.

Christian Ministry

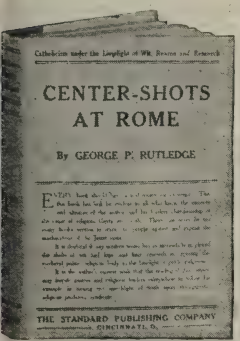
Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

"Here is a book of rare freshness and charm. Mr. Rotherham, with his ripe scholarship and rich experience, sketches with a master hand the outlines of the sacred task of ministering, and then fills in the details of his picture with the skill of an artist and the ardor of an enthusiast. He deals most helpfully and convincingly with the subject of preaching, and gives sound advice to all who desire to preach with effectiveness; but he includes all Christians in the 'work of ministering,' and has something to say to parents and neighbors as to their privileges and responsibilities."—Baptist Times.

RUTLEDGE, GEO. P.

Center-shots at Rome

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.



Catholicism under the limelight of wit, reason and research. Every book should have a real reason for existence. That this book has will be evident to all who know the sincerity and altruism of the author and his fearless championship of the cause of religious liberty and truth. There can never be too many books written to warn the people against and expose the machinations of the Jesuit junta.

It is doubtful if any modern writer has so successfully employed the shafts of wit and logic and keen research in exposing this medieval politico-religious body to the limelight of public judgment.

Pushing the World Along

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

Few ministers are better fitted to preach the gospel to this indifferent age than the accomplished and successful author of this stirring volume. Every sermon is a shaft of truth winged with apt illustrations, which go deep into the heart of the hearer. The preacher who wishes a fresh stimulus to more forceful and original sermonizing should read Mr. Rutledge's discourses.

SAINT-ETIENNE, RABAUT

The Old Cevenol

Art boards, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A realistic story of Catholic persecution. The inhuman cruelties that were perpetrated upon the Huguenots by the Roman Catholic Church constitute the story of this volume.

This book is deserving of wide circulation, for it is exceptionally timely for the conditions of the day. The message it contains—written in the blood of the martyred Huguenots—warns us to keep inviolate the liberties we have inherited from the sacrifices of our forefathers and to call a halt upon the encroachments on these liberties by the Roman Catholic Church.

SAWYER, R. H.

Bible Religion; or, The Church of the Scriptures

Cloth. Price, postpaid, 50c.

An exposition of the teachings of the Scriptures on the all-important subject of religion. This little volume placed in the hands of the earnest inquirer will surely lead him into a knowledge of the truth as it is in Christ.

SCOFIELD, JUDGE CHARLES J.

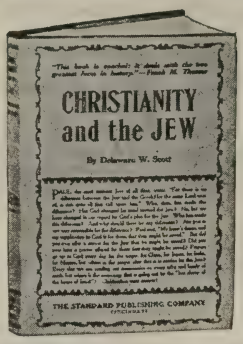
A Subtle Adversary

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

The "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of the Prohibition Reform. This tale is to the temperance cause what "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was to the cause of antislavery. It is a tale of Sangamon County, Ills., and deals with this intricate problem from the standpoint of a man well versed in every phase of it—through his position on the bench, in the church and as a member of society. There is no better way to spread the cause of temperance than to place such literature in the hands of voters and voters to be. Love, law and political intrigue combine to hold the interest to the end.

SCOTT, DELAWARE W.

Christianity and the Jew



Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

In the preface to this volume, Frank M. Thomas makes this strong statement: "This book is epochal; it deals with the two greatest facts in history."

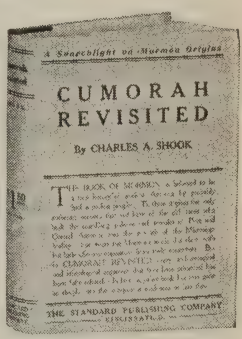
"This book will set our old friend, the Jew, in a new light before the average Gentile. It is a strongly written book, setting forth in part the great debt which Christianity owes to Judaism. It breathes a true Christian spirit. The author wonders why the church is making such great preparation for the conversion of the Chinese, the Japanese, the Indian, and other races and nationalities, and is doing so little for the conversion of the Jews, who gave us Christ and the apostles and the Bible itself. The plea is an appealing one."—United Presbyterian.

This is the most vital book that has been written upon this vital subject.

SHOOK, CHAS. A.

Cumorah Revisited

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.



A searchlight on Mormon origins. The Book of Mormon is believed to be a true history of ancient America by probably half a million people. To them it gives the only authentic account that we have of the old races who built the crumbling palaces and temples of Peru and Central America, and the mounds of the Mississippi Valley. For years the Mormons made this claim with but little effective opposition from their opponents. But in "Cumorah Revisited" every archæological and ethnological argument that they have advanced has been fully refuted. In fact, no other book has ever gone so deeply into the antiquarian evidences as has this. It completely refutes their claims and shows to what extent they have systematically played upon the credulity of a gullible public and to what extent this sect has gone in the way of willful deception in order to mislead the world. This is a vital and important book.

The True Origin of the Book of Mormon

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A false revelation exposed. What is the Book of Mormon? Two answers have been given to this question. The Mormons claim that it is the inspired history of the ancient inhabitants of North and South America, translated by Joseph Smith through the power of God. The Gentiles declare that it is nothing more than the manuscript found by Solomon Spaulding, revamped by Smith and his colleagues, Rigdon and Cowdery. In "The True Origin of the Book of Mormon," Mr. Shook maintains the latter view with an array of evidence that is both startling and unanswerable. This book is the most comprehensive and conclusive contribution that has ever been made to the literature on the subject.

The True Origin of Mormon Polygamy

A social evil revealed. Who introduced polygamy into the Mormon Church? This question has been discussed for years, and the Mormon people give two different answers. The Brighamites, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, Utah, say that it was Joseph Smith, and that he had a revelation enjoining it July 12, 1843. The Josephites, with headquarters at Lamoni, Ia., deny this, and declare that it was introduced by Brigham Young or some one else. Mr. Shook, in "The True Origin of Mormon Polygamy," proves conclusively that polygamy originated with Joseph Smith, and that he was guilty of other practices which also plainly nullify his claim to being a prophet of God.

SMITH, BENJAMIN L.

Common Sense

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, 30c.

The second book in the first year of the Advanced Course f the Standard Teacher Training Series of Text-books. his work is a masterly little treatise on practical religious edagogy and psychology. The title of this book is somewhat isleading in that it is not a treatise on common sense, but the special application of that saving commodity to that all-nportant task, the training of the young, whether in the ome, the school or the collegiate institution. While it is a easure to the teacher and the professor, it is, above all, ie book for the parent who feels the responsibility he is nder to make the most of all opportunities to impress the hild with right ideas and right motives. And it is to parents specially that we commend it as by far the best work ob-tainable for this purpose.

"The Sunday School teacher who studies it will be a etter teacher next Sunday, and the parent who reads it ill be a better parent that very day."—W. C. Pearce.

Briney, L. C. Wilson, Helen E. Moses, Anna Robinson Atwater, Lura V. Thompson, and others equally as well known, bespeak the excellence and worth of these addresses.

The King of Kings

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

Defenders of the truth that "Jesus is the Christ" will welcome this bold, original work. The argument for the divinity of our Lord is so presented that it will reach and quicken into life the slumbering faith of men. The time-worn speculations on this great theme are replaced by a new and an inspiring discussion. It is a work that will stimulate the mind and stir the reader into action.

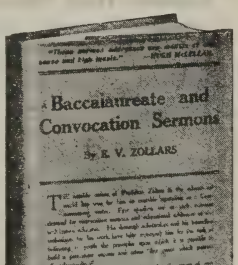
The Word of Truth

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

An able defense of the Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch. One of the most popular books on the subject. Just the volume for class use.

Baccalaureate and Convocation Sermons

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.



The notable career of President Zollars in the educational world won for him an enviable reputation as a Commencement orator. His thorough scholarship and his boundless enthusiasm for his work fully equipped him for the task of indicating to youth the principles upon which it is possible to build a permanent success.

The author has gathered in this volume the cream of over thirty years of Commencement addresses. It is an indispensable aid to speakers at annual exercises of schools, academies, colleges, seminaries and universities.

The Commission Executed

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A study of New Testament conversions and other evangelistic topics. "It is one of the best volumes of evangelistic sermons that it has been the writer's privilege to examine. The press has put forth no better volume on first principles than this. I wish it might be in the library of every preacher in America."—E. E. Snoddy.

The Abrahamic Prophecies Fulfilled

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A preliminary view of Bible geography, history and typology to assist in general Bible study. This book is not a Bible geography in any exhaustive sense, yet it deals in a broad way with the Bible world; its physical aspects, such as its mountains, plains, rivers, cities. It is not a Bible history in any systematic sense, yet it points out typical characters of certain cities, buildings and incidents, and gives valuable data on the manners and customs of the Bible people.

The Great Salvation

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A popular discussion of first principles. A thorough examination of the fundamental principles of Christianity. The plan of salvation is set forth in a way that will strongly appeal to the head and the heart. First principles are set forth here according to the New Testament order.

Hebrew Prophecy

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A popular work on this ever-fascinating subject. The book treats of the character and work of the Hebrew prophets; the gradual unfolding of prophecy; its nature; its kind, variety, source, symbolism, ethnic range, qualities; prophecy in type; its poetic form.

THE GARDENETTE: OR CITY BACK YARD GARDENING BY THE SANDWICH SYSTEM. Part I. Vegetable Garden. Part II. Flower Garden.

This volume is arranged to meet the needs of the beginner or amateur, especially for those who have limited areas that are available for the purpose.

Few realize the wonderful possibilities of a small piece of ground when cultivated to the limit of its capacity.

The Sandwich System herein described is not an idle theory, but a solid successful fact, the result of years of careful, painstaking experiment, and highly successful efforts in practical vegetable and flower gardening.

New York Sun: "This book will rouse the ambition of the city agriculturist. It is much more effective and practical than 'Back-to-the-Farm' Sermons."

Montreal Daily Mail: "It is one of the most complete treatises on the growing of vegetables and flower gardens yet issued for the beginner, and the information is so classified that anyone can become successful if they follow the instructions given."

The book contains thirty-two full-page illustrations, photographic examples of the author's experiments. Illustrated cover jacket. Handsomely bound .....Net $1 25

ANONYMOUS

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE THEATER

Precisely what the title indicates—facts as they are, plain and unmistakable without veneer of any sort. It goes directly to the heart of the whole matter. Behind the writer of it—who is one of the best known theatrical men in New York—are long years of experience. He recites what he knows, what he has seen, and his quiet, calm, authoritative account of conditions as they are is without adornment, excuse or exaggeration. It is intended to be helpful to those who want the facts, and for them it will prove of immeasurable value.

"The Truth about the Theater," in brief, lifts the curtain on the American stage. It leaves no phase of the subject untouched. To those who are ambitious to serve the theater, either as players or as playwrights, or, again, in some managerial capacity, the book is invaluable. To those, too, who would know more about the theater that they may come to some fair estimate of the worth of the innumerable theories nowadays advanced, the book will again prove its value.

ANDERSON, Richard Clough.

ANIMALS IN SOCIAL CAPTIVITY.

A deliciously clever satire, describing social foibles and upholding the Darwinian theory that man is a direct descendant of the ape, most vividly showing the close resemblance in construction and mentality between man and beast.

The volume is inscribed to Yale and the Class of '94 Sheff, of which the author was a member.

Beautifully illustrated in color by Lilian Noble Herschede with eight full-page drawings and numerous marginal decorations. Artistically bound.....Net $1 25

APPLETON, Everard Jack.

THE QUIET COURAGE AND OTHER SONGS OF THE UNAFRAID.

One of the poems in the collection, "The Woman Who Understands," has been copied extensively both here and in England; Current Literature declared it a complementary poem to Kipling's "Vampire." Others have a ruggedness and strength that is a little unusual and wholly uplifting.

Chicago Record Herald: "This is a heartening little volume, insistent with manly faith and courage. A good book to put in the pocket, traveling satchel, and the heart."

AUER, Harry Anton.

CAMP FIRES IN THE YUKON.

In this book the author, an explorer, a hunter of big game, and a lover of the Great Out-of-Doors, takes the reader from the shut-in life of the cities to the mighty wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

Hunters of big game will revel in this journey to the greatest range of big game on the continent; lovers of animal life will find keen interest in observing and studying with Mr. Auer the habits of the wild life of the far North, while the reader who loves the Open Places of God's Great Nature will be dominated by the intimate contact with the Majesty, Might, and Beauty of the Wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

We are given a liberal supply of that practical and useful information that we need in venturing into the Silent Places, interesting alike to those who roam the untrodden trails and to those who remain at home; we are told much that we should know about the romantic and Golden North, and all in a simple, unpretentious style that comes from contact with bigness.

The remarkable and numerous photographs with which Mr. Auer illustrates his work bring us very close to the great heart of the far-off Northern Wilderness.

Deseret Evening News: "He gives liberally of that useful and practical information needed by those who venture into the silent places, and he does it in so friendly a manner as to interest not only such as may themselves roam the untrodden solitudes, but also such as follow the trails in imagination from the peacefulness of their own fireside. The book is remarkably illustrated, both as to the number and the artistic beauty of the pictures, which further help to bring the reader very close to the heart of the far-off field."

BOYLE, Hon. James.
THE MINIMUM WAGE AND SYNDICALISM.

Two great subjects which have suddenly precipitated themselves upon public opinion. There is a marked lack of popular information regarding them. While there is no existing relation between the two, they are both phases of the one overwhelming and disturbing problem of the times—the world-wide unrest and discontent with economic and social conditions. The keynote of this book is an impartial exposition rather than an argument.

As an acknowledged authority on International Socialism, Mr. Boyle is peculiarly qualified to expound the mysteries of that startling and new revolutionary cult which has made such amazing progress among the "proletariat" of Europe and America, called SYNDICALISM.

The whole question of sex seems to have been in confusion since the beginning of time. The cause of this confusion and the resulting degradation is IGNORANCE. CAWEIN, Madison.

THE REPUBLIC. A LITTLE BOOK OF HOMESPUN VERSE.

Mr. Cawein's latest volume of Poems was written with a purpose. In it he makes a plea for plain living and high thinking. In the second part of his little volume, which is appropriately named "In Homespun," he gives us something different from anything he has done heretofore. They are little messages of love and hope and cheer. Homely and refreshing as a drink from the old spring, in them a flavor of the soil of Good-will to God and man; and content, no matter what our lot in life.

Our Dean of American Letters, William Dean Howells, says of Mr. Cawein: "He has the gift, in a measure surpassed by no poet, of touching some smallest or commonest thing in nature, and making it live from the manifold associations in which we have our being, and glow thereafter with an inextinguishable beauty."

Review of Reviews: "Mr. Cawein's nature poetry is a vessel brimming with the Elixir of Youth in which our faded roses of remembrance renew once more their pristine freshness and perfume."

MINIONS OF THE MOON.

A Little Book of Song and Story.

In this new book of Poems Mr. Cawein has given us something entirely different from anything ever attempted before in American Verse. He speaks with authority of his American faery. They are the articulate elements which interpret for him the beauty of the world, symbols if you please with which she addresses the soul.

Mr. Cawein has long been sure of his following among those whose judgment really counts and for whom poetry to be real poetry must be a deep interpretation of Nature and the Soul of Man.

Boston Transcript: "It is Mr. Cawein's landscape feeling for nature which constitutes the most abiding contribution of his art to American poetry. In 'Minions of the Moon' we have been given a work of delicate beauty which communicates pleasure, and for this we are duly grateful."

THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

The World's Greatest Wonderland. America's only Geyser Land.

An entirely new and revised edition with new plates and new illustrations of this remarkable classic of The Yellowstone. Ever since its discovery, more than forty years ago, the Yellowstone Park has grown in popular interest. Its natural wonders surpass anything to be found in like compass elsewhere in the world.

To these attractions have been added others in the form of wonderful mountain roads built by the Government, and a system of hotels and camping facilities which make traveling through the Park a delight quite apart from its scenic interest.

The 1915 edition of The Yellowstone is the most comprehensive book on the Park ever published. It gives a complete history of that region, as well as a full scientific description of its natural wonders. It is also an admirable Guide Book.

Bulletin of American Geographical Society: "There is practically nothing relating to the Park of interest to intelligent readers that is not treated in this volume."

Ready's Mirror: "Gen. Chittenden possesses the art of making even dry statistics bloom, and his book, supplied as it is with a splendid index and a map to delight, is replete with human interest."

Toronto Saturday Night: "Gen. Chittenden is naturally in a position to write with authority on the development of this wonderful natural treasure-house of the American people."

SKETCHES OF GREAT PAINTERS.

"Sketches of Great Painters" treats in a biographical and critical way of fifteen great painters. Among these are the pre-eminent old masters, Leonardo, Raphael, Michael Angelo, Titian, Velasquez, Rembrandt, and Rubens; then there are Murillo, Van Dyck, and Reynolds, and the modern Millet, Corot, Turner, Whistler, and Rosa Bonheur.

This book is in no sense a formal history of art, nor does it attempt that thoroughness which is sometimes akin to boredom. But no one can read these "Sketches" now graphically presenting the life and personality of the painter, and then again entertainingly describing one of his masterpieces, without absorbing much valuable information about those great masters of painting, whose art has quickened our appreciation of beauty.

The Bellman: "Here we have a book which performs the inestimable service of bringing that enlightenment which stimulates appreciation and enjoyment of great masters, this time in the field of pictorial art. . . . Pleasantly untechnical, and graphic as well as accurate, it is especially a book for laymen. . . . Illustrated with Reproductions so excellent as to merit being taken out and framed."

CLARK, BARRETT H.

CONTEMPORARY FRENCH DRAMATISTS.

In "Contemporary French Dramatists" Mr. Barrett H. Clark, author of "The Continental Drama of Today," "The British and American Drama of Today," translator of "Four Plays of the Free Theater," and of various plays of Donnay, Hervieu, Lemaitre, Sardou, Lavedan, etc., has contributed the first collection of studies on the modern French theater. Mr. Clark takes up the chief dramatists of France beginning with the Théâtre Libre: Curel, Brieux, Hervieu, Lemaître, Lavedan, Donnay, Porto-Riche, Rostand, Bataille, Bernstein, Capus, Flers, and Caillavet. The book contains numerous quotations from the chief representative plays of each dramatist, a separate chapter on "Characteristics" and the most complete bibliography to be found anywhere.

This book gives a study of contemporary drama in France which has been more neglected than any other European country.

FOUR PLAYS OF THE FREE THEATER: "THE FOSSILS," "THE SERENADE," "FRANCOISE' LUCK," "THE DUPE."

Authorized Translation—With an Introduction by Barrett H. Clark, and Preface by Brieux of the French Academy.

CONTENTS

Preface.....Brieux
Antoine and the Free Theatre, Barrett H. Clark
The Fossils.—A Play in Four Acts, Francois de Curel
The Serenade.—A Burgeois Study in Three Acts.....Jean Jullien
Francoise' Luck.—A Comedy in One Act, Georges de Porto-Riche
The Dupe.—A Comedy in Five Acts, Georges Ancey

Brieux says: "Antoine . . . it was who for the first time introduced to the public a large number of dramatists hitherto unknown, many of whom it is certain would otherwise never have had a hearing. He was the first to bring Ibsen to France, and François de Curel into international renown. Antoine showed us greater and finer possibiiities in staging. . . . He reduced the number of stage conventions, he encouraged and successfully produced the works of new authors, and taught the general public to look for and appreciate dramatic work of better quality and nobler inspiration than that to which it had as a rule been accustomed."

Brander Matthews says: "The book is welcome to all students of the modern stage. It contains the fullest account of the activities of Antoine's Free Theater to be found anywhere—even in French."

NATION OF NATIONS—New Plan to Stop War and Insure Permanent Peace.

In this volume the author presents in detail the first and only definite and practical plan for solving the great problem of peace and war. He includes draft of a complete Supreme Constitution and framework for a "Nation of Nations" that shall, with its own military and naval forces, or "police power," protect all supporting nations against unjust attack and guard the world's peace forever.

The book gives in full the plan of the "League to Enforce Peace, American Branch," of which former President Taft is the head, organized June 17, 1915, and compares and contrasts it with the "Crozier plan" for a "Nation of Nations." It holds that the former provides for a universal "entangling alliance" based on mere unenforceable treaties, while the latter would have a new, separate Government of governments that must regulate with its own forces and could not drag other nations into war.

New York Times Book Review: "At a time when many minds are grappling with the same problem, this little book deserves not to be overlooked."

FORAKER, Joseph Benson.

NOTES OF A BUSY LIFE.

In two volumes Mr. Foraker has sketched his experience of three years in the Union Army, three years on the Bench, four years as Governor of Ohio, and twelve years in the Senate of the United States.

He deals with many political and public events of great importance and, incidentally, with many national characters whom he met in connection therewith.

He quotes letters from Presidents Hayes, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, and Roosevelt, and from Senators Sherman and Hanna, Secretary Hay, and other distinguished Americans, which have never before been published.

He covers the Spanish-American War, the Panama Canal, and many other important subjects, closing with comments on modern developments in political methods and practices, having special reference to the Initiative, Referendum, Recall, and Primary system of making nominations, all of special interest at this time when these methods are being tested by practical experience.

The book will prove of special interest to all students of our political history, whether they are public officials or only public spirited Americans interested in the preservation of our Institutions.

Philadelphia North American: "It is primarily compact of documentary evidence, reinforced by contemporary comment."

Outlook: "To the reader these two volumes introduce a character worth knowing; a man of ability, independence, courage, and combativeness."

Last year Mr. Hurley gave us a collection that showed the "Town of the Beautiful River;" this year he adds historical interest to beauty, suggestion to delineation. MacMILLAN, Mary.
SHORT PLAYS.

To fill a long-felt want. All have been successfully presented. Suitable for Women's Clubs, Girls' Schools, etc. While elaborate enough for big presentation, they may be given very simply.

Review of Reviews: "Mary MacMillan offers 'Short Plays,' a collection of pleasant one- to three-act plays for women's clubs, girls' schools, and home parlor production. Some are pure comedies, others gentle satires on women's faults and foibles. 'The Futurists,' a skit on a woman's club in the year 1882, is highly amusing. 'Entr' Act' is a charming trifle that brings two quarreling lovers together through a ridiculous private theatrical. 'The Ring' carries us gracefuliy back to the days of Shakespeare; and 'The Shadowed Star,' the best of the collection, is a Christmas Eve tragedy. The Star is shadowed by our thoughtless inhumanity to those who serve us and our forgetfulness of the needy. The Old Woman, gone daft, who babbles in a kind of mongrel Kiltartan, of the Shepherds, the Blessed Babe, of the Fairies, rowan berries, roses and dancing, while her daughter dies on Christmas Eve, is a splendid characterization."

A dramatic poem in two acts, treating in altogether new fashion the world-old story of Pandora, the first woman.

Worcester Gazette: "It is absolutely refreshing to find a writer willing to risk a venture harking back to the times of the Muses and the other worthies of mythological fame. * * * The story of Pandora's box told in verse by a woman. SCHOLTZ, Moses, M.D.

SEX PROBLEMS OF MAN IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.

This volume by Dr. Moses Scholtz, an expert on venereal diseases, is an entirely new departure in the literature of sex hygiene. It is the first attempt to present to the general public in a thoroughly scientific comprehensive way all the facts of the sex life of a man. A youth struggling for purity in his manhood will find powerful support and encouragement from a scientific viewpoint.

An unfortunate victim of venereal disease will be greatly enlightened and benefited by the wealth of information of a practical character. Next to the instinct of self-preservation, sex is the most powerful and dominating factor of human life. Its proper interpretation and control bring to man happiness and a fully developed healthy life. Its ignorance or abuse spell ruin in a destruction of body and soul.

SUMMER IN A BOG.

The out-of-doors by one who loves it, is here transcribed realistically. The majesty and mystery of Nature mingled with the humor of every-day life.

Originality marks the pages of "Summer in a Bog" and it is at once apparent that the author takes rank with such writers as David Grayson and Gene Stratton-Porter. A book to entertain and to instruct. Almost unaware, facts of science are absorbed which point the way to further acquirement.

The most casual reader may find amusement in its pages, while the student will give it a place on the shelf beside appreciated works of reference. 12mo. Artistically bound. Handsomely printed.....Net $1 25

SMITH, Wm. C.

HOW TO GROW 100 BUSHELS OF CORN PER ACRE ON WORN SOIL.

This volume, as the title suggests, will prove of inestimable value, and if its teachings are followed by the farmers throughout the country, it will revolutionize the art of farming and make it a most profitable business. As one man says: "You make conservation of the soil plain and practical. You present a difficult problem in such a good, common-sense way."

Boston Transcript: "The author is a determined enemy of the soil robber. . . . To the possessor of worn-out land Mr. Smith offers the fruits of long experience, and he has certainly accomplished wonders. He treats exhaustively of soil, drainage, organic matter, ventilation, soil covering, etc. . . . His chapter of 'Don't Forgets' is a rich garden of agricultural epigrams, and not the least forceful warns the farmer: 'Don't forget that the soil-robber is the highwayman of agriculture.'"

THE BUSINESS OF FARMING.

The Preface of this splendid new volume by Mr. Smith contains a history of the science of farming from the dawn of creation down to the present time.

Among the chapters following this are "By-Products of the Farm;" "Utility and Conservation;" "Bookkeeping on the Farm;" "Care of Farm Machinery;" "Real Cost of Operation, Shipping, and Marketing Products;" "The Net Results Gained in Utilizing Your Farm Products, in the Feeding of Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep;" "Back to the Land Movement;" "Staying on the Farm," and many other valuable chapters.

The book deals with every phase and feature of the farm.

Practical Farmer, Philadelphia: "In these days of intensive farming, lots of brains must be used in connection with brawn, and this work is exceptionally well fitted to give great assistance. It treats of farming as a business, and the practical farmer can get much help from it. This book will also appeal to the layman who wishes to make a study of farming principles and conditions before he actually makes the farm his business."

STEWART, Dr. Thomas M.

SYMBOLIC TEACHING: OR MASONRY AND ITS MESSAGE.

While this is a book of Essays having the Ancient and accepted order of Freemasonry as a basis. it is quite different from other books of its kind in that it goes to the heart of things. It carries conviction because the appeal is to one's own power of reasoning and intuition. The exercise of these faculties in reading even one of the Essays instills a desire to follow the golden thread of Ariadne which runs throughout the whole series.

The volume also contains a comprehensive bibliography of books on Symbolism.

Boston Transcript: " . . . Masons of all degrees will find a new and deeper meaning in the Craft if they read carefully this work written by a Past Master who obviously has been a thorough student of Symbolic Masonry and who obviously has taken it seriously. . . . ."

THE MAN SINGS.

A volume of poetry marked by a spirit of frankness, the love of the human, and abiding reverence for the Creator. Written with the spontaneity that is the greatest charm of such lyrics.

The Poems are given a very artistic setting that attracts and pleases.

Chicago Herald: "Mr. Stott is a manly singer. His poems are worth sympathetic attention. 'The Gypsy's Song' and 'Winds O'March, etc.,' have vagrant appeal both wistful and charming. 'Defending of all the Marys,' strikes a note of deep pathos."

STRINDBERG, August. LUCKY PEHR.

Translated from the Swedish by Velma Swanston Howard. An Allegorical Drama in Five Acts. Compared favorably to Barrie's "Peter Pan" and Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird." This translation is authorized. Photogravure frontispiece of Strindberg etched by Zorn. Also, a reproduction of Velma Swanston Howard's authorization.

Worcester Gazette: "From a city of Ohio comes this product of Swedish fancy in most attractive attire, attesting that the possibilities of dramatic art have not entirely ceased in this age of vaudeville and moving pictures. A great sermon in altruism is preached in these pages, which we would that millions might see and hear. To those who think or would like to think, "Lucky Pehr" will prove a most readable book. * * * An allegory, it is true, but so are Æsop's Fables, the Parables of the Scriptures and many others of the most effective lessons ever given."

The Nation: "Those who like the variety of symbolism which Maeterlinck has often employed—most notably in the "Blue Bird"—will turn with pleasure to the short stories of Strindberg which Mrs. Howard has included in her volume. * * * They are one and all diverting on account of the author's facility in dealing with fanciful details."

THE HAMLET PROBLEM AND ITS SOLUTION.

The tragedy of Hamlet has never been adequately interpreted. Two hundred years of critical discussion has not sufficed to reconcile conflicting impressions regarding the scope of Shakespeare's design in this, the first of his great philosophic tragedies. We believe that all those students who are interested in the study of Shakespeare will find this volume of great value.

E. H. Sothern: "Your ideas of Hamlet so entirely agree with my own that the book has been a real delight to me. I have always had exactly this feeling about the character of Hamlet. WORLD THEORIES OF THE DRAMA

AN ANTHOLOGY OF THE WORLD'S IMPORTANT DRAMATURGIC THEORIES, COLLECTED AND EDITED BY BARRETT H. CLARK, AUTHOR OF "CONTEMPORARY FRENCH DRAMATISTS," TRANSLATOR OF "FOUR PLAYS OF THE FREE THEATER," ETC.

This anthology of text is one of the most important and far-reaching ever published. It is the only work of its sort, summing up practically all the epoch-making theories of dramatic art, from Aristotle to Bernard Shaw. Barrett H. Clark, the editor, author of a number of well-known books of contemporary and nineteenth century drama, translator and editor of a large number of translations from the French and German, has not only selected the texts—some of which have never before been translated and many of which are practically inaccessible—but supplied explanatory notes, references, bibliography covering the entire subject.

Many of the treatises are complete—like the "Poetic" of Aristotle and the "Art of Poetry" of Horace, while in the case of longer treatises, like Lessing's "Hamburg Dramaturgy," a careful selection has been made of those parts which are directly concerned with the subject.

The book covers the entire field of critical theory from the ancient Greeks to the theater of today, from Aristotle to Shaw, and forms the most important contribution to European dramatic art ever issued.

25 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY

Apologetic of Modern Missions, The

By J. Lovell Murray. Paper, 25 cents.

An outline course investigating the more common criticisms of foreign missions, their agents, methods and results. The objections are fairly stated, and abundant references are indicated both pro and contra, the student being left to draw his own conclusions.

Bibliography of Missionary Literature.

Compiled by J. Lovell Murray. 40 double-column pages; with 12 page Supplement—1914. 35 cents.

This selected list of books is carefully classified under General Missionary Literature, Countries, Medical Missions, Religious, Home Missions, etc., the aim being to present a moderate working library under each section. To meet a frequent demand the titles of a few special foreign missionary books which should be in a pastor's library are given in a separate group.

Call of the Home Land, The (Revised 1910)

By A. L. Phillips. 12mo, 173 pp.; paper, 35 cts. (Add 5 cents for postage.)

Arranged for eight studies.

In this book are set forth the conditions and needs of various classes and sections of the homeland. An account is given also of the entrance and spread of Christianity in North America.

Call, Qualifications, and Preparation of Candidates for Missionary Service, The Papers by missionaries and other authorities. Of special value to missionary candidates. 12mo, 248 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

This is not a systematic treatise on the call, qualifications, and preparation of candidates for foreign missionary service. It is simply a collection of papers prepared for periodicals and magazines, and for the conventions of the Student Volunteer Movement, by well-known missionary leaders.—The Missionary Review of the World.

Candidates in Waiting

A manual of Home Preparation for Foreign Missionary Work. By Georgiana A. Gollock. Cloth, 50 cents. (Add 5 cents for postage.)

This is elementary in character and especially good for those who are not college graduates.

Challenge to Christian Missions, The

By R. E. Welsh. Paper, 35 cents; cloth, $1.00.

Straight to the point, and convincing replies to critics of foreign missions, answering the challenge that the work is politically objectionable, religiously superfluous, and in its outcome morally and socially unsatisfactory.

Chinese Revolution, The

By Arthur J. Brown. Illustrations, map, index. 210 pages; paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

An illuminating review of the situation in China at the time of the Revolution; considers the economic, social, educational and religious changes which are ushering in China's new day.

Counsel to New Missionaries

From older missionaries. Board covers, 12mo, 145 pp.; 20 cents. (Add 5 cents for postage.)

"This is a book of personal counsel; all of its chapters were written by experienced missionaries, who place at the disposal of new missionaries some of their invaluable experience. This little volume was published with the hope and prayer that young men and women going out to the field may be helped by reading it to be better, happier, and more fruitful servants of Jesus Christ, our Lord."

Daybreak in Turkey

By James L. Barton. Map, illustrations and index. 294 pages; paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.50.

No writer in America possesses a more thorough grasp of the Turkish situation than Dr. Barton. This volume gives an insight into the political and religious conditions in the Ottoman Empire prior to the Balkan war.

Decision of Character

By John Foster. (With introductory note by John R. Mott.) 12mo, 64 pp.; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

In his introductory note Mr. Mott says: "While an undergraduate I made a careful study of this remarkably helpful essay. Since then I have re-read it many times, and have no hesitation in saying that it has exerted a greater influence on my mental habits than anything else I have ever read or heard. As this paper is being recommended constantly to students, its publication in this convenient form by the Student Volunteer Movement is welcomed most heartily."

Decisive Hour of Christian Missions, The

By John R. Mott. 12mo, 239 pp.; illustrations, map. Mission Study edition, paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

This book is packed with reliable data on mission problems and it gives the conclusions of the author's long study of these questions. A reading of the book produces the inevitable conviction that conditions in the non-Christian nations are such as to warrant the belief that there never has been, and it is hard to see how there will be again, such an opportunity confronting the Church. The book is a powerful appeal for action, a veritable call to arms. It is especially adapted for use as a Mission Study textbook.

Educational Missions

By James L. Barton. 12mo, 268 pp., illustrations, index; paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

This book has been prepared to meet a strong demand in the colleges; treats a subject of expanding interest and of the most pressing importance; written by one of the keenest students on the subject of missions.

Effective Workers in Needy Fields

By W. F. McDowell, R. P. McKay, W. F. Oldham, C. C. Creegan, and J. D. Davis. Bibliography, analytical index, illustrations. 12mo, 195 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

The reader is brought into a sympathetic knowledge of the lives and works of these modern missionaries: David Livingstone, Africa; George Leslie Mackay, Formosa; Isabella Thoburn, India; Cyrus Hamlin, Turkey; and Joseph Hardy Neesima, Japan.

Evangelization of the World in This Generation, The

By John R. Mott. Bibliography, analytical index. 12mo, 245 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, decorated, gilt top, $1.00.

It is doubtful whether any missionary volume hitherto published can compare with it in strength of argument and in prophetic vision. It is stimulating, lucid, and convincing, addressing itself not to the emotions, but to the judgment; yet it is so spiritual in tone and purpose that it encourages and inspires the reader. No prospective leader of public sentiment in Church or State can afford to lose this course of study.—The Sunday School Times.

Findings of the Continuation Committee Conferences Held in Asia, 1912-1913, under the Chairmanship of John R. Mott.

Arranged by Topics. With General and Chapter Introductions by Harlan P. Beach. 432 pp. 1914. $1.75.

Of special value to students of missionary problems and policies. The practical experiences and judgment of 1,200 missionary statesmen of Asia lie back of the conclusions reached at these conferences. The arrangement of the material is by topics, so that the findings of all the conferences on a given subject are arranged together in the same chapter. Its carefully prepared index increases the usefulness of the volume.

A few of the vital questions dealt with are:

What type or phase of work should receive chief emphasis in the field?

What special preparation should missionaries have before leaving the home lands?

What Christian literature is most urgently needed;

(1) for Christians,

(2) for the educated non-Christians,

(3) for the less educated non-Christians.

Foreign Missionary, The: An Incarnation of a World Movement

By A. J. Brown. 12mo, 400 pp.; limp cloth, 68 cents; cloth boards, $1.50.

Out of a long and intimate experience the author deals with such questions as these: Who is the Missionary? What are his motives, aims and methods? What are his difficulties and what the results of his work? How are the Mission Boards conducted? The volume is full of information which no one interested in the missionary problem, and certainly no Student Volunteer, should fail to study.

Future Leadership of the Church, The

By John R. Mott. Index, 12mo, 208 pp.; cloth, 50 cents; Library edition, gilt top, $1.00.

The object of this book is to aid in enlisting more of the ablest men for the ministry. It shows that in North America, Great Britain and in other parts of the world there is a serious decline in the number of candidates. The emphasis throughout the book is laid not on the number but on the quality of the men offering themselves to this service.

"I very earnestly sympathize with the plea you make, in 'The Future Leadership of the Church,' for the strongest and best trained young men to turn themselves more and more toward the leadership of the agressive forces that make for Christianity."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Hand-Book of Comparative Religion, A

By S. H. Kellogg. Missionary to India, and author of "The Light of Asia and the Light of the World." Analytical index; 12mo, 184 pp.; cloth, 50 cents

This book shows comparatively and in an exceedingly clear way, just what each of the great faiths teaches on the important religious questions of the ages.

Healing of the Nations, The: A Treatise on Medical Missions; Statement and Appeal

By J. Rutter Williamson, Edinburgh University. Member of the British Medical Association. Bibliography, 12mo, 95 pp.; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 40 cents.

The appeal made by the awful sufferings endured in the absence of medical relief is made intense by the facts here put before us, and the success of the medical missionary as a path-breaker for Christ through the jungles of superstition and prejudice is put beyond a doubt.—The Outlook.

Introduction to the Study of Foreign Missions

By Edward A. Lawrence. Being Chapters A. II., VII., VIII., IX. of "Modern Missions in the East." 12mo, 143 pp.; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 40 cents.

It contains a striking historical survey which is followed by an exceedingly valuable discussion of the aim, scope, motives, etc., underlying the missionary enterprise. Then come chapters on the various forms of missionary effort, the missionary on the field in his various relations, and the problems which confront him.

Islam: A Challenge to Faith

By Samuel M. Zwemer. Statistical tables, maps, charts, index, bibliography; Mission Study Class Edition, paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents. Library Edition, $1.00.

This book, by a scholarly missionary, still in the vigor of youth, is excellent in every respect, a model in book-making, so far as introductory matter, text, illustrations, arrangement, bibliography, and indexing are concerned. It is an ideal handbook for study, with maps, statistics, and all the apparatus for a careful examination of the subject. The needs and opportunities of the Mohammedan world from the standpoint of Christian missions is shown, and a flood of light is shed, that dissipates much of the mystery and romance about the rise of Mohammed and the religion named after him, and which makes obsolete much matter in the old encyclopedias.

The Homiletic Review.

Japan and Its Regeneration

By Rev. Otis Cary. Bibliography, illustrations, statistics, index, and missionary map. 12mo, 159 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

The aim of the volume is to exhibit the interworking of the many agencies in this Oriental Renaissance, and their true relation, one to another, as well as to clearly depict the material, social, and religious environment of the Japanese missionary. The treatment is broad and catholic, and the attempt has been made to do equal justice to all leading elements that have entered into Japan's recent wonderful progress, including her relations with Russia.

A better manual upon the Japanese Empire and its evangelization could scarcely be produced.—Church Missionary Intelligencer.

Knights of the Labarum

Practical Ideals in Medical Mission Work; Jefferys.

Missions and Apostles of Mediaeval Europe

By Rev. G. F. Maclear, Warden of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury. 16mo, 149 pp.; paper, 25 cents.

A study of the mission fields of the Middle Ages and of the heroic Apostles who have been the makers of modern Europe.

Modern Apostles in Missionary Byways

By Rev. A. C. Thompson, Rev. H. P. Beach, Miss Abbie B. Child, Bishop Walsh, Rev. S. J. Humphrey, and Dr. A. T. Pierson. Bibliography, analytical index, portraits. 12mo, 108 pp.; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 40 cents.

In this book out-of-the-way mission fields that are little studied are brought under review. Greenland, Fuegia, Hawaii, Mongolia, Ceylon, and Arabia are the picturesque background against which stand out in clear relief the lives of Hans Egede, Allen Gardiner, Titus Coan, James Gilmour, Eliza Agnew, and Keith-Falconer.

New Testament Studies in Missions

Being outline studies covering the missionary teachings of the Four Gospels, the Acts and the Pauline Epistles. By Harlan P. Beach. 12mo, 80 pp.; interleaved for additional references and M.S. notes, outline map; paper, 15 cents.

An intelligent use of this book cannot fail to deepen interest in missions, and lead to efficient methods of work.—New York Observer.

It is full of good things for those who use it wisely.—Journal and Messenger.

New Voice in Race Adjustments

Edited by A. M. Trawick. 230 pp. (6 x 9); bibliography, index; paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

"It is a well-edited collection of the addresses and reports presented at the Negro Christian Student Conference, Atlanta, Ga., May 14-18, 1914. They are of special value and significance because they are the expression of a truly new voice in race adjustments in the South. Practically every phase of the religious and social life of the Negro is considered, together with the coöperation now taking place between white and colored people for the improvement of conditions. The discussions are frank, critical, and in many cases highly suggestive of methods for remedying the evils freely exposed by both white and colored speakers."—The Southern Workman.

Pastor and Modern Missions, The: A Plea for Leadership in the World Evangelization

By John R. Mott. Missionary Bibliography. 12mo, 249 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, gilt top, $1.00.

The volume is a reprint in enlarged form of a course of lectures delivered at Ohio Wesleyan University, Yale Divinity School, McCormick and Princeton Theological Seminaries. It deals with world conditions at the beginning of the twentieth century and with the pastor as he stands between his church and the world's need.

Present World Situation, The

By John R. Mott. 12mo, 249 pp., fully indexed; cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents; Library edition, gilt top, crown octavo, $1.25.

No more timely book could be offered to those interested in the world's evangelization. Broad questions of statesmanship and strategy are discussed as they relate not only to direct missionary operations, but also to the whole large problem of Christianizing all the relations between nations.

"It is a book by a man of thought for men of action. The style is the characteristic expression of the man who writes it: ardent, alert, virile, athletic, arraying facts and forces with a reach and command that belongs to the leaders of men."—Outlook of Missions.

Protestant Missions; Their Rise and Early Progress

By Augustus C. Thompson. Appendix, index. 12mo, 314 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

An excellent summary of early Protestant missions; mainly biographical, and describing fully a few great missionaries rather than referring to many of comparatively little importance. The author sketches the history from the Reformation to a little more than a century ago.

Religions of Mission Fields as Viewed by Missionaries

By ten prominent missionaries. Bibliographies and index. 12mo; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Meyer; Catholicism, G. B. Winton, D.D.

This book is particularly valuable for intending missionaries, since the viewpoint of the writers is a practical rather than a theoretical one.

Bible Study

Amurru the Home of the Northern Semites

By Prof. A. T. Clay, Yale University. A study showing that the religion and culture of Israel are not of Babylonian origin. The views of the critics who would dissipate the Bible into Babylonian myths are not only proved to be without foundation, but the origin of Israel's religion as set forth in the Old Testament is substantiated. $1.25.

Ancestry of Our English Bible, The

By Prof. Ira M. Price, University of Chicago. A scholarly treatment of the story of the various versions of the Bible. Profusely illustrated. Widely used as a text-book. Equally suited to the reference library of the everyday Bible student. $1.50.

The Apostles as Everyday Men

By President Robert Ellis Thompson, S. T. D. President Thompson pictures the Twelve as real men, with their weaknesses and their noble characteristics sympathetically set forth. He devotes a chapter to each of the six pairs of apostles, and a chapter to what is known outside the New Testament about their life and death. The book is a graphic, vivid character study, and an invaluable reference manual in Bible study. 50 cents.

From the Nile to Nebo

By Franklin E. Hoskins, D. D., Syria Mission, Beirut. A Discussion of the Problem and the Route of the Exodus. The book is the result of a 1900-mile journey, including the route of the Exodus from Egypt, through the Sinaitic Peninsula, Mount Seir, Edom and Moab, Ammon and the Jabbok, to the Jordan and Jericho. A residence of twenty-eight years in Syria has given the author exceptional knowledge of the people and customs, and afforded opportunities for extensive travel. Beautifully illustrated with 85 halftones, contains 366 pages of type matter, and will be of great interest to every Bible student. $3.00.

Light on the Old Testament from Babel

By the Rev. A. T. Clay, Ph. D. An authoritative statement of the results of recent archæological discoveries, and the light they throw on Old Testament history. The book is abundantly illustrated, many of the pictures never having been published before. $2.00.

Light on the Story of Jonah

By H. Clay Trumbull. There is light on that story from sources outside the Bible. Dr. H. Clay Trumbull in the course of his Oriental researches came upon certain facts which seemed to him worthy of the attention of Bible readers as bearing on the Bible narrative. His deductions from these facts are very suggestive. 20 cents.

By Clayton S. Cooper. Mr. Cooper knows the facts and methods of practised Bible study throughout the world as do few other men. Out of his rich experience in promoting Bible study in America and the Orient he has made a book which opens up a rare opportunity to those who would appropriate new treasures in Bible study and teaching. Literally the whole world has been searched out for its contribution to the kind of Bible study that grips. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

With each prayer is a reference to the Scripture upon which the thought of the prayer centers. A welcome gift book for private, or class, or platform devotions. 50 cents.

By ANNIE TRUMBULL SLOSSON. One of the most beautiful of Mrs. Slosson's New England stories is now issued in this special edition. It is the story of a girl in a mountain village, counted a heretic by her neighbors, but whose life reveals the reality of a strange and transforming vision that the country-folk could not understand. The story has all of the distinctive qualities that led one reviewer to write of other work of hers, "literary art in which we have had no master since the pen dropped from the faint and feeble fingers of Hawthorne, and which seems native to Mrs. Slosson." Price, 50 cents.

Little Shepherd of Bethlehem, A

By ANNIE TRUMBULL SLOSSON. Mrs. Slosson has written many New England stories that have found a place among our distinctively American literary treasures in the appreciative estimate of both British and American readers and critics.

This story, a Christian blessing to any one who reads it, tells of a lonely boy among the New Hampshire hills who was profoundly moved to prepare in his own way for our Lord's return on Christmas Day. But it is impossible to do more than suggest the story. The story is appropriately offered in artistic book form especially suitable for a Christmas gift, with a frontispiece by Charles Stephens. 50 cents.

Historical Charts of the Life and Ministry of Christ

With an outline harmony of the Gospels. By George E. Croscup, B. A. Author of "A Synchronic Chart of United States History." The distinctive feature of this work is found in the two sheets of folding colored charts bound in at the back of the book. These charts make visible and real the earthly life of our Lord by localizing its historical facts and features, which are harmonized with the gospel story thereof, thus helpfully connecting time, place and event. Harmony and charts are interdependent, and make up the author's "visible method" of teaching history and applying it to the Gospel narratives.

There is also included an abundant bibliography of books to consult, a pronouncing and explanatory dictionary of proper names, lists of the miracles and parables of Jesus, an outline of the Jewish Calendar, a diagram of the Herodian Family, and a brief record of the Twelve Apostles.

This is destined to become a standard work, necessary to every Bible student's equipment. $1.00.

It also conforms to the well-known Harmony of the Gospels by Stevens and Burton, and with slight variations to the Outlines of the Life of Our Lord, by Dr. S. J. Andrews.

The chart contains three complete diagrams:
(1) A General View of the Life of Christ.

(3) The Passion Week.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO SCIENCE SERIES

Under editorial management of ELIAKIM HASTINGS MOORE, JOHN MERLE COULTER and ROBERT ANDREWS MILLIKAN

The University of Chicago Science Series owes its origin to the feeling that there should be a medium of publication occupying a position between the technical journals with their short articles and the elaborate treatises which attempt to cover several or all aspects of a wide field. The volumes of the series will differ from the discussions generally appearing in technical journals in that they will present the complete results of an experiment or series of investigations which have previously appeared only in scattered articles, if published at all. On the other hand, they will differ from detailed treatises by confining themselves to specific problems of current interest and in presenting the subject in as summary a manner and with as little technical detail as is consistent with sound method. The size of the volumes will range from fifty to one hundred and fifty pages.

Amy E. Blanchard—Continued

ELIZABETH, BETSY AND BESS. Illustrated. 284 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

If there is one thing that Miss Amy E. Blanchard knows well it is the child's heart, and this knowledge stands her in good stead in her recent book. The story runs into just such conversation and escapades as three young girls are liable to indulge in.

ELIZABETH, BETSY AND BESS — SCHOOLMATES. Illustrated. 320 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

This is the story of the school days of the three girl chums and shows the individual development of each one. Every chapter is full of the interesting experiences dear to the hearts of girls of this age.

THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS OF BRIGHTWOOD. A story of how they kindled their fire and kept it burning. Colored frontispiece. 309 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

What the Boy Scout organization means to the boys, Camp Fire Girls means to their sisters. It is a well grounded organization, having high aims of helpfulness and personal service and this story shows the development in the character of those who made up the organization in the little town of Brightwood, their difficulties and triumphs in forming their organization; and the experiences and pleasures enjoyed by them are woven into an intensely interesting story by an author who is devoted to the work.

FAGOTS AND FLAMES. A story of winter camp fires, with colored frontispiece by Frank T. Merrill. 306 pp. $1.00.

This is a companion volume to "The Camp Fire Girls of Brightwood," but absolutely independent of it. The author has carried along the characters in the former story, bringing into prominence the true-hearted country girl, Kathleen Gilman. It is brightened with girlish fun and by the ceremonials of the Camp Fire Girls, and will be dear to the heart of every member of the Camp Fire organization.

Elbridge S. Brooks

THE GODSON OF LAFAYETTE. Being the story of young Joe Harvey and how he found the way to duty in the days of Webster and Jackson, and the conspiracy of that American adventurer, Eleazer Williams, sometimes called "the false dauphin." Illustrated. 333 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

The book introduces Eleazer Williams, who claimed to be the lost Dauphin of France, and his wild schemes to found a great empire in the West. This plan, it will be recalled, led finally to the Black Hawk War and the subsequent opening of the great Northwest.

THE BALASTER BOYS. A story. Illustrated. Cloth. 294 pp. $1.00.

"The Balaster Boys" is based upon the home life of a professor's family which contains three wide-awake boys and their cousin, an orphan girl, who becomes their adopted sister. The portrayal of their individual characters and of the influence they exerted over one another in their work as well as their play furnishes the theme of a bright and wholesome story that can be read with interest by boys and girls alike.

WINIFRED WEST. A story. Illustrated. 371 pp. Cloth. $ .80.

"Winifred West" is a child of a simple country home in Massachusetts, well trained and cultivated as far as her surroundings permitted. Full of sunshine and devoting herself steadily and persistently to her work, she won recognition personally, as well as a player upon her favorite instrument.

Ellen Douglas Deland

MALVERN. A neighborhood story. Illustrated. 341 pp. Cloth.

The neighborhood in question is in New Jersey, and furnishes a queer assortment of boys and girls, whose plans and activities form the material for this entertaining story. Miss Deland understands boy and girl nature, and also how to tell a story. A visit to the World's Fair forms a considerable part of the book, recalling pleasantly many features of the Unique White City whose like probably will not be seen again.

A SUCCESSFUL VENTURE. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth.

Four girls, with a brother, left destitute by the death of their father, find that they must make their own way in the world. They scandalize their dignified aunt by deciding to earn their own living. They are refreshingly honest and natural, and their plans, as conceived and carried out, make an exceptionally fine story.

The author has displayed ability in planning the course of action of her agreeable young people and in working out her plot effectively. Its blending of good sense and entertainment will be appreciated.

THREE GIRLS OF HAZELMERE. A story. Illustrated. 360 pp. Cloth.

"Three Girls of Hazelmere" is a story of three young women living in a Massachusetts village who make a trip abroad to fit themselves for particular lines of work. Their experiences in England, France and Germany are entertainingly told. They learned much in which the ordinary reader will have an interest. The charm of the book is in its shifting scenes, amid which pleasant people come and go.

THE FRIENDSHIP OF ANNE. A story. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth.

"The Friendship of Anne" is founded on boarding school life that is full of activity. The author apparently knows girls well, their weaknesses, hopes and aims. Every girl will enjoy the enthusiasm which runs throughout the story, and as for the characters, one cannot but sympathize when sympathy would be appreciated, and rejoice with them in their triumphs.

KATRINA. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth.

The background of the story of "Katrina" is a New England village, with its quaint, oldtime people, the old Perkins home being the central point of interest. Katrina was reared there by an old aunt, cold and stern as the climate, but at heart devoted to the young girl.

THE BEACH PATROL. A story of the life saving service. 318 pp. Cloth.

THE YOUNG SUPERCARGO. A story of the merchant marine. 352 pp. Cloth.

"The Brain and Brawn Series" of books for boys, by William Drysdale, which the New York Sun called "the very best stories for young people we have ever seen," are four in number — "The Young Reporter," a story of Printing House Square; "The Fast Mail," a story of the railroad; "The Beach Patrol," a story of the life-saving service; and "The Young Supercargo," a story of the merchant marine.

"The Brain and Brawn Series" are of a higher moral tone and character than almost any books for young people we have read, and we hope they will be introduced freely into home circles and in all libraries. They are called by the New York Sun "The very best stories for young people we have ever seen."

CADET STANDISH OF THE ST. LOUIS. A story of our naval campaign in Cuban waters. Illustrated. 354 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

"Cadet Standish" is a story of our naval campaign in Cuban waters, the hero being a young cadet of the St. Louis, who was detailed for perilous work on shore. The author has been well acquainted with Cuba and Cuban customs, and with this knowledge and his skill as a writer he has produced a war story true to life, full of stirring adventure and that will be thoroughly relished by boys.

THE YOUNG CONSUL. A story of the State Department. 356 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

The purpose of these volumes is to give in story form a complete account of the present workings of our State and Treasury Departments. But they hardly need the aid of fiction to lend interest or novelty to the subjects.

These books are full of information, interesting alike to a boy or girl.

THE BOY SCOUTS IN THE DISMAL SWAMP. Colored frontispiece. 310 pp. Cloth.

Walter P. Eaton, whose boy scout story of Berkshire has already gained a popularity, has taken his little band far from their original camping ground in his new story, "The Boy Scouts in the Dismal Swamp." The Dismal Swamp of today is not what it was fifty years ago or the band of scouts would not have come out as well as they did. While in it, they saw sights enough to verify the name, but much strange beauty of vegetation, much geological development of unfamiliar kind. The adventures with the law and the lawless add spice to the story which keeps up the standard of the other books of the series.

BOY SCOUTS IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS. The story of a hike over the Franconia and Presidential Ranges. Colored frontispiece. 320 pp. Cloth.

Intimate knowledge of the country as well as of the basic principles of Boy Scouting characterizes this new volume by Mr. Eaton. It is the third of the series and is interesting to all Boy Scouts, as well as those who contemplate becoming Boy Scouts, or who have not even thought of it yet.

BOY SCOUTS OF THE WILDCAT PATROL. Colored Frontispiece. 315 pp. Cloth.

This story is a continuation of the history of Peanut and the other characters which appeared in previous volumes by this author. Some of the former characters have developed into Scout Masters themselves and the story shows what they have learned in the way of Boy Scouting and how they passed it along to others.

PEANUT—CUB REPORTER. A Boy Scout's life and adventures on a newspaper. Colored illustration by Frank T. Merrill. 320 pp.

A rattling newspaper story with Peanut as the central character—he who has figured so prominently in the author's four Boy Scout books. The organization and management of a modern newspaper is carefully portrayed, developing the principles of loyalty and service which animates the best reporters, and Peanut, applying the principles learned in his Boy Scout work, shows his mettle.

It is a nature study, with just enough of the thread of a story to make it attractive to the class of readers for whom it was written, and the author's thorough knowledge of her subject has enabled her to present a volume that is as instructive as it is entertaining. Gladys is a winning little heroine, and her keen interest in birds, insects and flowers sharpens her eyes and makes her life on a country farm a very enjoyable one.

THE RAINBOW BRIDGE. A story. Illustrated. 254 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

A unique story of a little girl in a charitable institution who was adopted by an aunt. There is an undertow of pathos in the story of Marion Lee's experiences, but a bright, beautiful, dominant note of love and happiness pervades the story, which is a most valuable one.

BARBARA'S HERITAGE. Or, Young Americans among the Old Italian Masters. Illustrated. 358 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Books of travel, study and fiction are numerous enough, but books that combine all three as happily as "Barbara's Heritage" are very few. This book, describing the experiences of several young Americans among the old Italian masters, is full of high ideals of life and study. It abounds in description of travel and foreign scenes that the reader intuitively knows were born of intimate experience. It is rich with information regarding the best ways of studying the works of the old masters in the Italian cities where they may be found today, and gives a sympathetic interpretation of their meaning, the value of which is ensured by the art reputation of the author. We know of no better guide for those who are to study these old masters at home or abroad.

Citizenship is an important subject, one which may well be taught in our public schools, discussed from our pulpits, and made the theme for the greatest publicity. SELECT NOTES. A commentary on the Sunday-school lessons. Cloth. $1.15. Delivered $1.25.

There is no other commentary made that begins to contain so much usable information, so many striking illustrations, or such judicious treatment of doctrinal questions as the "Select Notes," and it can be safely trusted to bring out most of the best points and teachings of the lessons in a manner that will commend itself to thoughtful men and women. Our younger readers will especially find it to be nearly indispensable, and their constant use of the "Select Notes" will tend to train their minds to work along those lines which will cause their teaching to become effective.

The suggestions to teachers, the maps and helps are decidedly good, and the collection of illustrative pictures is comprehensive and thoroughly interesting.

All of this abundant material is combined with the skill born of long training and experience, and placed before the teacher and student in the form that has been found most convenient and usable. These are the qualities that have commended "Peloubet's Notes" to a world-wide circle in the past, and that will continue to commend it in the years to come.

Fortescue, Granville

FORE-ARMED

An answer to the great question confronting our country as to what constitutes "preparedness" is valuable if it comes from one in position to know. Captain Fortescue has had exceptional opportunities during his long career in the United States Army to observe the working of our military system. He is a graduate of the Staff College, served in the Spanish-American War and in the Philippine campaign as a cavalry officer, and was Military Aid to the President. Furthermore, as Military Attaché with the Japanese Army before Port Arthur, and as a war correspondent with the different armies in Europe, on both the Western and Eastern fronts from the outbreak of the war. he has seen the world's chief military systems in action. He presents in this volume a description and analysis of the German, French, English, Swiss and Australian systems, and a well-considered plan by which an efficient army for the United States may be built up. 160 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

Freeman, R. Austin

A SILENT WITNESS

The ordinary mystery story seems commonplace when compared with this new novel by Dr. Freeman. The plot is so buttressed by curious scientific facts, in the use of which Dr. Freeman is a past master, that it defies the most astute reader, and instructs while it fixes the interest. It is full of the thrill of perilous adventure, of fiendish conspiracy, and of hazardous attempts to ferret out a resourceful, unscrupulous criminal. How Thorndyke, medico-legal expert, pieces infinitesimal facts together with infinite care, how he bridges the gaps in his network, and triumphantly discovers the undiscoverable, makes him a classical figure among the great detectives of fiction. 8vo. 382 pages. Illustrations by H. Weston Taylor. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.20

THE MYSTERY OF 31, NEW INN

HINDENBURG'S MARCH INTO LONDON

Translated from the German

Probably no book has taken possession of the popular imagination of any country as "The March of Hindenburg into London" has taken hold of Germany, where four million copies are reported sold, and where it is said to be selling as fast as the publishers can turn it out. In Great Britain the first large edition of the translation was eagerly snapped up, necessitating other editions as fast as they could be prepared to fill the enormous demand for it. To Americans it lays bare, with many surprises, the intensity of the German belief in the godlike virtues of the Kaiser, their complete faith in the justice of their cause and their boundless confidence in the invincibility of their armies. This revelation of the German mind is an extraordinarily interesting feature of the book. Crown 8vo. 211 pages. Striking paper cover in colors. Price....50 cents

HURLBUT'S STORY OF JESUS

Dr. Hurlbut's "Story of the Bible" has been so generally indorsed as the best book of its kind, that the "Story of Jesus" by the same author will be welcomed by a host of readers. IRELAND: VITAL HOUR

The author has had an opportunity given to few of possessing essential knowledge of Irish organizations, and he has entered upon the work in that rare spirit of patriotism which seeks the weaknesses and the strength of the materials of which the Irish nation of the future must be built. Some of his criticisms of the existing state of affairs, particularly the influence of the clergy in politics, will produce a deep impression, and perhaps provoke fierce rejoinders; yet the book is both conciliatory and unifying, and the true way of Ireland's concord with England is pointed out. Altogether an original, bold sincere, and, above all, upbuilding book. Demy 8vo. Cloth, gilt edges. Price.....Net $2.50

Nearing, Scott, Ph.D. (Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Toledo University)

POVERTY AND RICHES: A STUDY OF THE INDUSTRIAL REGIME

Scott Nearing, Ph.D.

Scott Nearing tells why the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer; shows the vast wealth produced in this country and who controls it; proves that the heaven of the rich is founded on the hell of the poor. He convinces you that when marvelous machines will do the work of many men, there is no reason why everybody should not have comfortable and easy lives; no necessity for people to lose their homes and become anxious renters; no justice in the unequal distribution of wealth; no excuse for the man who owns for a living instead of working for it. And he points out a cure for the rising cost of living; he demands that honest, industrious men be spared the exhausted faces of their women and the sobs of their under-fed children.

A great book, built with science and conscience; packed with sympathy, sanity and wisdom; crowded with facts and clear explanations; loaded with deadly arguments; the big book of inspiration and counsel to every lover of social justice. Illustrated with numerous photographs of actual conditions among both rich and poor, and other stirring pictures by celebrated artists. Over 300 pages. Cloth. Illustrated. Price .....Net $1.00

ANTHRACITE: AN INSTANCE OF NATURAL-RESOURCE MONOPOLY

Dr. Nearing uses the private ownership of the anthracite coal fields to show the way in which consumers and workers may expect to fare at the hands of other monopolies of natural resources. He shows that the price of coal is not based on the cost of production, but on the monopolistic principle of charging "all the traffic will bear"; he shows that the miners receive scarcely living wages, many of them less than that, while on the other hand the mine-owners pocket enormous profits; and draws the conclusion that no one can have an interest in the continuance of the private ownership of natural resources except the private owners themselves—with the consumers footing the bill. The book is an incisive, stimulating analysis of a problem that is vital to every man, woman and child in the country. 251 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

THE CRY FOR JUSTICE

An anthology of the literature of social protest, collected from twenty-five languages, covering a period of five thousand years, with an introduction by Jack London. We believe this is one of the most interesting books ever published. It is an attempt to cover the whole field of the literature of social protest, both in prose and poetry, and from all languages and times. It is a Gospel of the new hope of the race. It is in no way a propaganda, but appeals to the growing sense of social justice in industry, in politics, and in every walk of life. The illustrations repeat in the field of art what has been done in the field of literature. A volume which is unique of its kind, this anthology forms an invaluable work of reference and general interest to the great body of readers who are concerned with social problems. 950 pages, 6½ x 9 inches. Illustrated. Cloth; gold side and back titles. Price.....Net $2.00

White, J. William, M.D., Ph.D., LL.D., F.A.C.S. (Emeritus Professor of Surgery in the University of Pennsylvania and a Trustee of that Institution)

A TEXTBOOK OF THE WAR

Dr. White has collated and arranged, in readable and logical form, the vital facts and arguments from the writings of widely different authorities, and, arguing cogently from this basic evidence, has answered clearly and fully many of the important questions involved in the precipitation and conduct of the European war. This book is unique in its principle, and is marked by the clarity of thought and expression for which Dr. White is noted. The fact that several editions of Dr. White's Primer of the War have been sold, and that the foreign rights have been separately and repeatedly cabled for, has led to this enlarged and revised edition under a broader title. 12mo. 500 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

Widdemer, Margaret

THE FACTORIES, AND OTHER LYRICS

All lovers of good poetry will be grateful for the publication of this book of collected verse by Margaret Widdemer, and not a few of those who scoff at poetry and poets will find within its pages matter which they can really understand and enjoy. The volume contains the widely-quoted poem of "The Factories," a poignant protest against the dwarfing of all the "little sisters" of industry, and many others before which those who search the arid pages of the magazines for poetry have delighted to pause. In spirit and content the poems range all the way from the gayest of ballads to the solemn-echoing "War March," full of heartbreak and wailing bugles. Miss Widdemer has the poet's insight into many moods and many times and withal the gift of spontaneous and haunting music. 128 pages. 12mo. Cloth; gilt top. Price.....Net $1.00

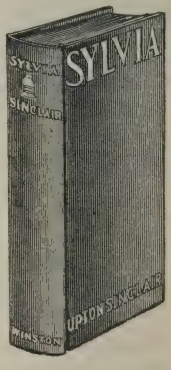
Sinclair, Upton
SYLVIA



Appearing at the psychological moment when social questions are at the front, "Sylvia" is the "inside story of a great society wedding, and reveals the things the public never hears. In its picture of the old, fast-vanishing Southern life, and in the unfolding of the character of a charming girl, the book is surpassing, while in the final, startling scenes, it brings home to the individual reader the horror which is hidden in the phrase, "sowing his wild oats." 413 pages. Cloth. Price .. Net $1.20

SYLVIA'S MARRIAGE

Upton Sinclair here tells the very human and convincing story of the married life of Sylvia Castleman, a socially-distinguished Southern girl of rare charm, who, against her own inclination, for family reasons married the scion of a great New York family. The story involves a vivid picture of the class system that sacrificed Sylvia. Her beauty and the purity of her character make all the more impressive the tumult of indignation and protest with which she contemplates her child's blindness—the consequence of the former misdeeds of her husband. "Sylvia's Marriage" utterly annihilates the curse of false modesty and reticence in vital sex matters. It is a vital story—a novel that men should read for their preservation, and women for their protection. Cloth, 348 pages. Price ..... Net $1.20

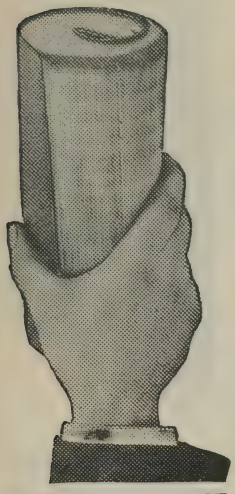
Universal Self-Pronouncing

CLEARNUTYPE

DICTIONARIES



ABSOLUTELY FLEXIBLE
The leather Boundings of the Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are so flexible and so durable that they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

The Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are not called "Webster's" because no dictionary can claim to be modern or useful at the present time which has not been so much changed since the death of Webster in the year 1843 as to render the use of his name as the author of it a misnomer.

As the Language changes and grows Dictionaries must change and grow with it. Dictionaries made a few years ago, even with frequent revision, fail to meet the needs of to-day. It requires rebuilding to give the proper balance between the words and definitions in use to-day and those of yesterday.

The Unusual CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are based upon the foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER and other lexicographers, modernized by CHARLES MORRIS.

In clearness of type and the ease with which the eye finds the word; in simplicity and accuracy of definition; in fullness of contents and logical arrangement Universal CLEARNUTYPE will be found to excel other works of like purpose.

Among the Noteworthy Features are the Following:

Words defined are printed in bold-face type with definitions in clear, easily read type.

Each word is divided into syllables to show the proper syllabication of words.

The capitalization of words. All proper words begin with capital letters, common words with small letters.

Compound words have a bold-face hyphen.

Synonyms and antonyms are given in the body of the dictionary following the definitions of the words.

The Pronunciation of words is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling with key to pronunciation at the bottom of each page.

The parts of speech are given.

All definitions are given in simple language that is easily understood.

Each word and its derivation are defined separately instead of the derivatives being crowded in with the definitions; an expedient which saves space but lacks utility.

Issued in five different forms each containing the largest possible type in a book of the size, and planned to meet the requirements of every variety of service.

WINSTON'S ILLUSTRATED HANDY CLASSICS

Bound in Flexible French Morocco at the Price of Cloth Books

Size only 4 x 6 inches

Large, Clear Type Thin, Opaque Paper

Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics supplant every other edition of the world's classics, because, while they are printed in type as large as that found in ordinary volumes, their small, compact size (4 x 6 inches) makes them light, convenient volumes to handle; they occupy only a fraction of the usual shelf-room; and they can readily be carried in the pocket or thrown in a hand-bag for reading at odd moments. Appreciative customers who have first bought a few volumes of the Handy Classics have followed this by replacing large portions of their libraries with these fine little books. The saving in space, the beautiful and uniform appearance of the flexible leather bindings, and the increased pleasure of handling and using these volumes have made the change well worth while.

THE CREAM OF ENGLISH LITERATURE

The titles included in Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics represent the very best work of standard English authors covering fiction, poetry, essays, etc., and make it possible for any one to own and read those authors with whom everyone desires a close acquaintance. Each work is unabridged and with a few exceptions complete in one volume. A full list of titles will be found on the succeeding pages.

YOUR CHANCE TO OWN ONE OR MANY of these DESIRABLE VOLUMES

Is made possible by the use of imported Bible paper in the larger works. This specially thin paper, which is strong and opaque, enables us to include in one of these volumes the same amount of matter that ordinarily requires a much larger compass, without decreasing the size or legibility of the type. It is far superior to India paper for this purpose because it makes the print clearer and blacker, and entirely eliminates the difficulty of turning the leaves of an India paper volume.

WINSTON'S ILLUSTRATED HANDY CLASSICS

Illustrated with 2,400 Artistic Engravings

"Mr. Flintwinch held the candle to her head"

Reproduction of monochrome illustration from Little Dorritt, by Charles Dickens.—Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics.

An additionally valuable feature of Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics is comprised in the 2,400 monochrome and three colored plates with which the volumes are fittingly illustrated. These illustrations are specially drawn from the original paintings of the foremost artists. They not only illumine the volumes artistically and appropriately, but what is of equal importance they interpret the stories with great fidelity.

BOUND IN FLEXIBLE POLISHED LEATHER

Each of the volumes contained in Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics is handsomely bound in flexible Polished Leather, with the author's autograph signature on the side; gilt tops and silk marker. The strength and durability of the binding recommend these volumes for long and constant use.

This new series comprises a variety of literary, artistic, poetic and useful books. Attractive autograph and greeting card supplied loose with each volume, thus giving all the advantages of the usual season greeting cards, with the added charm of novelty.

Each Holiday season brings with it a demand for something new and novel to take the place of the old-fashioned card which passes from friend to friend and home to home throughout the English-speaking world. A library of these little volumes would be a delightful memento of Holiday's gone and past, and a permanent reminder of the friends from whom they came. Printed on an extra quality of paper.

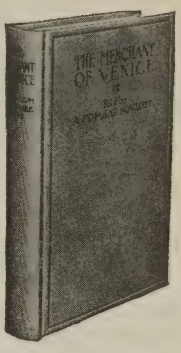
Novels from Shakespeare

Founded on Shakespeare's Plays and Given Complete in the Form of Fiction



There is undeniably a large class of readers who have avoided Shakespeare because of the dramatic and poetic form of his work, and who are equally unsatisfied by Lamb's "Tales from Shakespeare" because of the inevitable fault to which Lamb confesses in his preface, namely, the restraint laid upon him by the necessity of brevity. To these readers the "Novels from Shakespeare" Series will immediately appeal. In these novels the stories in the great plays are told at length; almost every character keeps his place and every incident is retained, only the dramatic and poetic setting giving place to the devices of the novelist. For those who look upon these old tales of Shakespeare's as worthy of being read for their own charm's sake, these novels offer the best of the world's stories told in prose, yet told as far as possible in Shakespeare's own words. 12mo. Cloth. Each Volume illustrated with Eight Fine Color Plates. Price, per Volume.....Net $1.00

TALES FROM SHAKESPEARE

These famous tales, to the number of twenty, were prepared for the purpose of putting into attractive prose the stories of Shakespeare's plays. They were constructed by weaving into the narrative the very words of Shakespeare wherever it seemed possible to bring them in—a method which the gifted brother and sister pursued with such success that this volume has taken a sure place in classical literature. There is no introduction to the study of Shakespeare at once so winning and so helpful as that supplied by these prose stories. 15 photogravures. Price ..... Net $1.50

NEW PRACTICAL
"House and Garden" Books
"BEST OF THEIR KIND"

In the preparation of the books described in these pages, the first consideration has been to give practical and dependable information, free from technical terms. They have also been more lavishly illustrated than similar books sold at the same price.

The descriptions of the volumes give an accurate idea of their value and utility, and the high reputation of the editors should in itself be sufficient warrant for the general opinion that they are the "best books of their kind."

Rockwell, F. F.
HOME VEGETABLE GARDENING

Size 5¼ x 7¾ inches

A concise book on home vegetable gardening that also includes the growing of berries and fruit. Books of this kind usually treat the subject in an encyclopedic way, telling what vegetables there are and what pests are likely to attack them, and so on, giving far too much information of this kind and not enough for the man who wants to establish a vegetable garden on his suburban lot for family use. Mr. Rockwell, the author of this work, is a practical gardener himself. From long experience he realizes just what the average layman wants to know in order to raise a successful and varied crop. He realizes also that this information must be presented in a logical sequence in order that it may be used to the best advantage.

The book tells: 1. How much space is necessary for a family of a given size; 2. How to divide the space in the proper proportions for the various vegetables and trees; 3. What varieties have been tried and found true; 4. How to plant, cultivate, spray, fertilize, and finally bring the crop to fruition. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth decorated with inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full color.
Price ..... Net $1.00

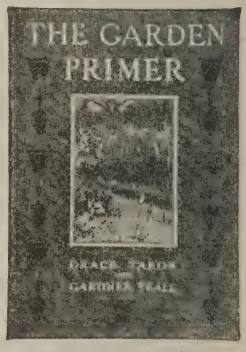
Tabor, Grace
THE GARDEN PRIMER



Size 5¼ x 7¾ inches

An indispensable book for every garden maker. It is a handbook of practical gardening information, covering every branch of the subject from preparing the soil to the gathering of the fruit and flowers. A profusion of illustrations, many of them of the most practical sort in explaining the various garden operations, make the text especially clear. The matter is supplemented by carefully prepared planting tables, an invaluable guide to every garden lover, as well as to the beginner in gardening. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth, tastefully decorated with an inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full colors.
Price ..... Net $1.00

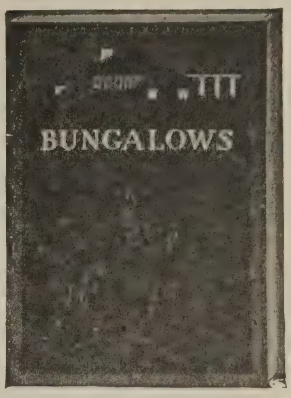
Tabor, Grace
THE LANDSCAPE GARDENING BOOK

Most garden books deal with the cultural side only—telling what flowers are attractive and how to grow them or how to succeed with the most popular vegetables. The larger subject embracing the whole setting of the country or suburban home, PARTICULARLY ONE OF MODERATE SIZE, has apparently been ignored. THE LANDSCAPE GARDENING BOOK clears up the whole difficult problem of making a house seem at home in its site. The subjects treated include the utilization of natural resources, the placing of trees, shrubbery, flowers and vines, the selection of varieties, the laying out of entrances, drives, walks, gardens, and buildings. There are also classified lists of plants and cultural directions covering the whole practical side of the subject. An essential book for the man who would have his home—house and grounds—something more than a mere building set on the earth. 180 pages. 118 illustrations. The illustrations are superb half-tone reproductions from representative gardens and homes, together with practical diagrams and planting plans. Bound in dark blue cloth, stamped in gold, with a garden in full color in the design. Price ..... Net $1.50

Saylor, Henry H.
BUNGALOWS



Size 7½ x 10¾ Inches

This work discusses the whole subject in a most practical and helpful manner. It treats of types of Bungalows suitable for summer homes, camps, mountain shacks, and various other types. Careful treatment is given to all departments of the subject, such as planning, building materials, interior finish, schemes for furnishing that are in harmony with the informal and comfortable character of the building, water supply, fire-places, lighting. Over 200 pages. Lavishly illustrated with plans and photographs of Bungalows that have been actually built. Bound in Art Linen with appropriate cover design. Price ..... Net $2.00

DISTINCTIVE HOMES OF MODERATE COST

New and revised edition. The illustrations, of which there are more than three hundred, both of the exterior of houses, their garden settings, and the principal rooms inside, are all from photographs of houses already built, ranging in cost from $3,000 to $20,000. The floor plans are also given. All architectural styles are represented: Colonial, English Half-timber Stucco, Cement, Dutch Colonial (the gambrel roof type), Swiss Chalet, etc. Chapters written by authorities cover all sides of the fascinating problem of house-building, interior decoration and furnishing. The relations between the home-builder and his architect, the matter of plans, specifications, contracts, the puzzling problem of extras and how to avoid them—all these subjects are clarified in a most comprehensive and interesting way. 4to. Cloth. Price.....Net $2.00

MARY FRANCES STORY-INSTRUCTION BOOKS

FOR TEACHING CHILDREN USEFUL THINGS IN AN ENTERTAINING WAY

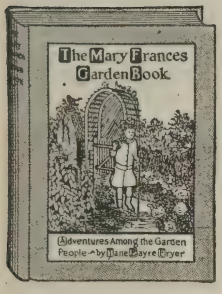
These are not mere story books to be read through and cast aside. They are instruction books in story form which the youthful readers joyfully study because they think it is play. But in this play they learn principles of usefulness which fascinate because of the manner in which these principles are presented.

NEW 1916

The Mary Frances Garden Book

Or Adventures Among the Garden People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



When the lure of Spring is in the air, and there is pure joy in simply being out of doors, every childish heart has a wish to "make a garden." For the boy or girl who has this desire there is nothing more appropriate than The Mary Frances Garden Book. This newest Mary Frances book will make Springtime happier for the children—and for grown-ups too.

HOW TO GROW FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES CLEARLY TOLD IN STORY FORM

The Mary Frances Garden Book actually teaches children how to grow all their favorite flowers and vegetables—how to prepare the soil, how to plant the seeds, how to plant bulbs, the names of parts of flowers, how plants grow by fertilization and reproduction, how to guard against insect enemies, how to care for growing plants, how to make a hotbed, what flowers and vegetables are best for children's gardens, etc., etc., and gives an outline of each month's work for a year. In brief, in the simplest possible words and style, and in the most fascinating kind of story, it gives the little reader a more intelligent knowledge of the processes of Nature than the majority of grown people possess. It also instils a love and appreciation of plant and animal life, and of all Nature.

COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS ON EVERY PAGE

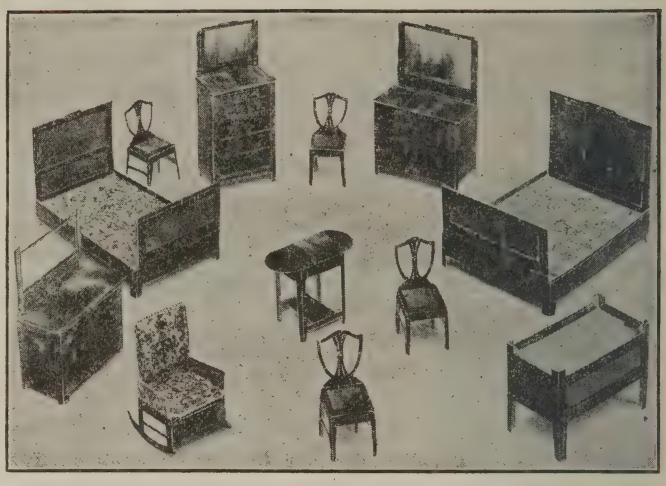
In addition to colored illustrations, on every page, there are a number of colored cut-out gardens painted direct from photographs to show the form and color of the flowers, and to prove that the garden plans in the book are not "ideals," but an actual working basis for little gardeners. 378 pages, 7 x 9½ inches. Attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Housekeeper

Or Adventures Among the Doll People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

It is doubtful whether any story more captivating than The Mary Frances Housekeeper has ever been written for girls. In the most skilful manner, it takes advantage of the natural childish instinct to "play house," and the opportunity to instil the fundamental principles of good housekeeping is improved through the medium of the delightful story of Mary Frances' experiences in teaching her dolls to keep house.



This reproduced photograph shows the bedroom furniture in the book cut out and set up, but it can give no idea of the realistic graining and beautiful coloring of the paper furniture itself. The book also contains suitable furniture for every room in the house.

36 SHEETS OF WONDERFUL PAPER DOLLS AND CUT-OUT FURNITURE

A glimpse into this book is enough to make a girl's heart leap. Here she finds not only the story of the Paper Doll Family of Sandpile Village, and how they acquired a home, but also the paper dolls themselves—thirty-six sheets of dolls and of the new, patented kind of cut-out furniture. Such paper dolls and furniture no little girl ever saw before! There is a whole family of dolls: Father and Mother Doll and five children, including the baby—besides "Cinda," the colored maid. Then there is a houseful of furniture—furniture for the bedrooms, library, dining-room and kitchen. Every piece has been specially drawn for the book by the designer for one of the largest furniture manufacturers in the United States. The furniture folds together with a patented, self-locking system that obviates the use of paste, pins, etc. The sheer delight of cutting out and playing with the furniture and dolls, whose fortunes are recounted in the story, creates an intense interest in the housekeeping instruction.

CONTAINS A PRACTICAL COURSE IN HOUSEKEEPING

The exciting experiences of the Paper Doll Family of Sandpile Village in setting up housekeeping create in Mary Frances (the heroine of the story) a consuming desire to teach her French dolls how to keep house, and here, as well as in the first part of the story, are woven in the practical explanations of household duties and management. This is done in the most skilful manner, so that, as Mary Frances learns how to dust, or sweep, or iron, or make beds, or polish silver, or use stencils, or assume the duties of hostess or guest, the little reader takes it all in eagerly, and becomes just as anxious to put her knowledge into practice as Mary Frances was.

Size, 7 x 9½ inches; 280 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Sewing Book

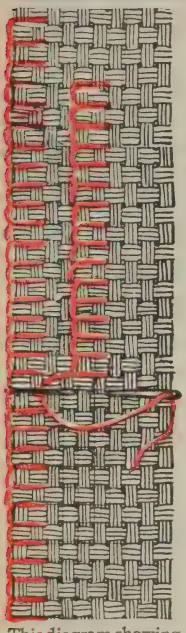
Or Adventures Among the Thimble People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

The story of how the Thimble People taught Mary Frances to sew is as quaint and delightful a story as ever appealed to a child's imagination. It leads the reader irresistibly on to learn what Mary Frances learned, and to find out all the amusing experiences which she had with these comical little elves.

HOW THIS REMARKABLE BOOK TEACHES GIRLS TO SEW

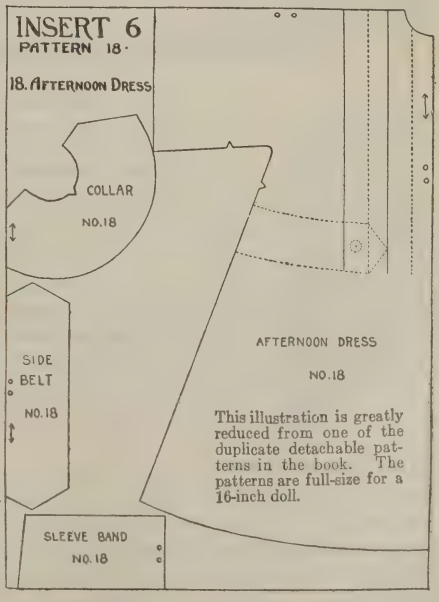
First the Thimble People teach Mary Frances the various "stitches" she needs to know—even and uneven basting, catch stitching, hemming, and all the rest. Then the Thimble People help her to make clothes for "Mary Marie"—her dolly. Here she learns how to use patterns and to bring into use all the progressive elements which she has been taught.



This diagram showing how to make the "blanket stitch" is an example of how everything is made plain in the book. Such diagrams, of which there are a great many, are printed in two colors, the thread, for instance, being shown in red to make it perfectly evident.

THE BOUND-IN AND DETACHABLE PATTERNS ARE WORTH THE PRICE OF THE BOOK

One of the most unique features of this book are the thirty-three patterns, which include everything to complete the doll's wardrobe—underclothes; morning, afternoon and party gowns; coats, bonnets, caps, night-gown, kimono, and all the dainty little things to delight a child's heart. The patterns are bound in the book in duplicate—one set on heavy paper to remain permanently in the book, with a second set on thin paper that can be detached for use. They are regular, full-size working-patterns with full directions for their use, and enable a girl to outfit her doll completely.



This illustration is greatly reduced from one of the duplicate detachable patterns in the book. The patterns are full-size for a 16-inch doll.

NEARLY 300 FASCINATING COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS

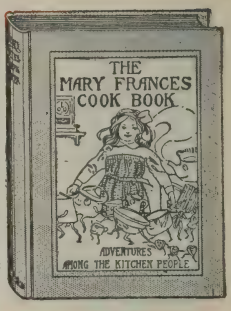
The illustrations in this book are of themselves of sufficient interest to hold a child's attention. Every page contains one or more of Mrs. Boyer's clever colored illustrations which are so popular a factor of the Mary Frances books.

Size 7 x 9½ inches; 320 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Cook Book

Or Adventures Among the Kitchen People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



This winsome book tells in story form how Mary Frances learned to cook. It gives the recipes in the simplest, plainest words. It describes every operation clearly—just what she did, the mistakes she made (mistakes other little girls are apt to make at first) and how she learned to overcome them. The recipes are arranged in the order of their simplicity. The easiest comes first, and by gradual steps as experience gives confidence the young reader is led to the preparation of the more difficult dishes.

"A Sauce Pan is a funny thing."

TURNS DRUDGERY INTO PLEASURE AND CREATES A DESIRE TO BE HELPFUL

The book is attractive to children. It makes the use of common kitchen utensils a pleasure instead of drudgery. The pots and pans are made to talk, and what they say entertains as well as instructs. They become the Kitchen People, each with a personality of its own. No one who reads of "Aunty Rolling Pin" and her quaint speeches will ever again think of a rolling pin as a mere thing of wood. So with all the Kitchen People; their personalities are impressed on the young mind in such a way as to attract instead of repel.

Size, 7 x 9½ inches; 175 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.20 net.

THE NEW MARY FRANCES BOOK

The Mary Frances First Aid Book

By Jane Eayre Fryer

Member of the Red Cross Society
Member of the National Preparedness Society
Author of the Mary Frances Story-Instruction Series

As with all the other Mary Frances Story-Instruction books, the Mary Frances First Aid Book aims to interest children with a delightful story, which is used as a means for conveying information of great and lasting value, impressing it on their minds in such a way that it will always be remembered. The book tells what to do in case of accident or sudden illness, and teaches the value of presence of mind in accidents or emergencies in and outside the home. The story concerns the life of Mary Frances' dolls, and is full of humor, taking away the usual gruesomeness of the subject.

IT INSPIRES CHILDREN WITH A DESIRE TO RELIEVE SUFFERING

But is so skilfully written that they will not be tempted to use medicines or means beyond entire safety. It is also a simplified and handy reference book for grown people in cases of accident, and contains a ready-reference list of remedies for all emergencies, including directions for first aid in cases of burns, scalds, cuts, wounds, fainting, dislocations, broken bones, etc. Attractively and practically illustrated. Cloth. 50 cents net.

FAIRY TALES OF ALL NATONS

The most beautiful book of fairy tales ever published. Thirty superb colored plates are the most prominent feature of this new, copyrighted book. These plates are absolutely new and portray the times and customs of the subjects they illustrate. The subjects were posed in costumes of the nation and time in which each story is set, and are unrivaled in rich color, lively drawing and dramatic interest. The text is original and interesting in that the famous fairy tales are taken from the folk-lore and literature of a dozen principle countries, thus giving the book its name. Many old favorites and numerous interesting stories from far-away lands, which most children have never heard, are brought together in this charming book. 8vo. 314 pages. Price.....$2.00

The "Red Cross Girls" Series

By MARGARET VANDERCOOK

Author of "Stories About Camp Fire Girls," the "Ranch Girls" Series, etc.

While Mrs. Vandercook is widely known, both in America and abroad, for her short stories, poems and other articles contributed to magazines, and more recently as a novelist, her enviable reputation rests chiefly on her popularity as a writer of girls' books. In her latest series, the "Red Cross Girls' Series, she has excelled all her previous achievements. These stories deal with four American girls of widely different education who enlist as Red Cross nurses in the European War. Mrs. Vandercook has avoided everything of a depressing or gruesome nature in the development of these stories, yet the elements of heroism and self-sacrifice are most commendably employed in the account of the services which the girls render on and near the great battle-field. More than that, the lighter and romantic aspects of these stories will endear them to a host of readers. The books are alive with plot and action. Handsomely bound in cloth. Fully illustrated. Attractive cover design. 12mo.

The "Alamo" Series By EDWARD S. ELLIS

For the subject of his latest, and in many respects his best, series of boys' books, Mr. Ellis has taken the picturesque and thrilling incidents that marked the struggle of Texas for independence from Mexican misrule. The books in this new series are especially timely in view of the present importance of Mexican subjects, and while they have a real and permanent value, they possess all the interest and glamor for boys which may be found in other books with a less worthy foundation.

THE BOY PATROL ON GUARD

THE BOY PATROL AROUND THE COUNCIL FIRE

The very low price at which these new Ellis books are sold is not the least of their attractions. Printed on an excellent quality of paper, fully illustrated. 12mo. Cloth.

THE SEARCH FOR THE NORTH POLE

THE DISCOVERY OF THE NORTH POLE

CAST AWAY AT THE NORTH POLE

Recommended by Rear Admiral Melville, who commanded three Expeditions to the Arctic Regions:

I have read with a great deal of interest your three volumes of the Arctic Series, "The Search for the North Pole," "Cast Away," and the "Discovery of the North Pole," all of which are most vividly, though carefully, portrayed.

These volumes will, no doubt, be of great interest to the youth of our country, and at the same time be an incentive to the study of the physics of the earth, the air and the ocean.

I have made three Arctic voyages and compliment you on the accuracy of your work.

I am, sir,
Respectfully,
(Signed) GEO. MELVILLE,
Rear Admiral, U. S. Navy (Retired).

The Famous Jack Hazard Series

By J. T. TROWBRIDGE

Of the whole series it may be said that they are almost unrivaled of their class. They are faithful studies of character and life; wholesome, fascinating, inspiring—books that boys love to read—and that they may read with profit.—Boston Advertiser.

JOHN BURROUGHS

The Eminent Naturalist, writes of these books in Scribner's as follows:

"The Jack Hazard Series of stories is no doubt destined to hold a high place in this class of literature. The delight of the boys in them (and of their seniors, too) is well founded. They go to the right spot every time. Trowbridge knows the heart of a boy like a book, and the heart of a man too, and he has laid them both open in these books in a most successful manner. Apart from the qualities that render the series so attractive to all young readers, they have great value on account of their portraitures of American country life and character. The drawing is wonderfully accurate, and as spirited as it is true. The constable, Sellick, is an original character, and as minor figures where will we find anything better than Miss Wansey and P. Pipkin, Esq. The picture of Mr. Dink's school, too, is capital, and where else in fiction is there a better nickname than that the boys gave to poor little Stephen Treadwell, 'Step Hen,' as he himself pronounced his name in an unfortunate moment when he saw it in print for the first time in his lesson in school. On the whole these books are very satisfactory, and afford the critical reader the rare pleasure of the works that are just adequate, that easily fulfill themselves and accomplish all they set out to do." 12mo. Cloth, Sold separately or in sets boxed. 6 titles.

Price per volume, $1.25 Net per volume.....

Trowbridge, J. T.

JACK HAZARD AND HIS FORTUNES

The scene is laid upon the line of the Erie Canal, and opens with Jack as a poor, ill-treated, profane little rascal of a canal-driver. It closes with Jack surrounded by friends, in a good home, with golden opportunities for the future. It is a book for boys, who will get a wholesome lesson while they follow the fortunes of Jack and his dog, Lion, with absorbing interest.—Portland Transcript.

A CHANCE FOR HIMSELF

The whole story breathes of the country in which its scenes are laid; and in its course, which nowhere passes the modesty of nature, there are marks of such honest study and thorough knowledge of farm life and farm folk, such delicate and true touches in the high motives of the plot, that one is not only entertained by this tale for boys, one is charmed and delightfully surprised.—W. D. Howells in Atlantic Monthly.

DOING HIS BEST

Mr. Trowbridge, who has written some of the best of our juvenile literature, contributes another volume of the story of the life of Jack Hazard, who is already well known to most of our young readers. The present volume takes him along through his school-days, coon-hunting, sugar-camping, boy-business on the farm to raise extra pocket-money, and so forth—a very eventful time of life for Jack.—Ohio State Journal.

FAST FRIENDS

As a story for boys, this ought to be ranked among the best. It deals in a fresh and captivating manner with a line of experience not by any means unfamiliar to readers of this class of books. Two boys set out for New York city—the one to find some trace of his relatives, from whom he was stolen when an infant; the other to make his fortune as a poet. The history of their adventures ends pleasantly, yet it will not foster any vain ambition.—The Churchman, Hartford.

THE YOUNG SURVEYOR

Mr. Trowbridge never wrote a more captivating work, and he will never write a better. He won't do it because he can't. It is one of the very best stories we ever read.—Providence Press.

LAWRENCE'S ADVENTURES AMONG THE ICE-CUTTERS, GLASS-MAKERS, COAL-MINERS, IRON-MEN AND SHIP-BUILDERS

A very successful attempt to convey instruction in several of the practical arts in a pleasing guise. The conceit is a pleasing one and very delightfully employed. Here is a book full of interesting situations and descriptions, and calculated to stimulate a curiosity that exists in almost every healthfully constituted boy, and to lead him to a love of the more practical pursuits—a thing to be encouraged in this day when the tendency is to rush into the professional and delicate arts of the desk and counter. Our boys should by all means have access to this good book.—Sunday-School Times.

THE STORY-LIFE OF JESUS (With a Plan for Young People to Record the Important Events in the Pilgrimage of our Lord)

This volume is prepared with a special view to tell the Great Story in words that appeal to the child's mind and imagination. Accompanying each chapter of the book are two supplementary divisions: first, a "missing-word" story in which the facts contained in the chapter are summarized, but from which a number of the most significant words are omitted, with blank spaces inserted in their places. In these spaces the child, after reading or hearing the chapter, can supply the missing words to complete the summary. When finished it constitutes a story of the Life of Jesus written by the child. The second supplementary division contains a list of questions which thoroughly review the ground covered in the previous chapter with blank lines for writing in the corresponding answers. 380 pages, 7 x 9½ inches. Illustrated. Cloth. Price.....$1.25

The Julia Greene Cut-Out Series of Famous Children's Stories

Designed by HELEN PETTES and JULIA GREENE

This unique series provides in a new and doubly attractive form those stories of childhood which though generations or even centuries old, are always as new as the day they first took form. These stories are related in both poetry and prose and are made attractive in a new way by the fact that they are illustrated with colored cut-out figures and furniture which enable the delighted little readers to reconstruct the stories and act them over and over in all possible variations to their hearts' content. In "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," for example, the cut-outs, printed on heavy, coated paper, include the four characters, with their clothing, and the chairs, beds and porridge bowls which are so real a part of the immortal story. These cut-outs are drawn in a spirit of sympathy and verity, with a real appreciation of childish imagination, and are beautifully colored. Without doubt these books will instantly take their place anywhere among the most attractive and popular of all books designed for little folks. Size, 11 x 8 inches. Bound in cloth, with inlaid front cover printed in colors.

Price per volume, 60 cents. Net per volume.....

LEATHER PROBLEM ON LOW-PRICED BIBLES SOLVED

Ever since the beginning of the war, leather has been getting scarcer, and some grades of leather it is impossible to obtain. It can therefore be assumed that with the continual advances in prices of leather, advances will have to be made in the prices of all leather-bound books and Bibles.

For a number of years The John C. Winston Co. has been conducting experiments with material that will take the place of leather on low-priced Bibles, and have been fortunate at this time in being able to say that these experiments have proven remarkably successful, and that they will put upon the market this year a series of Bibles bound in this material which will be free from all the objectionable features of the so-called substitutes for leather that have been used in the past. This new material will be absolutely free of any ill odors. It will not mildew. It will be free from attack of vermin of any kind, and it will not only be stronger than all leathers used on the lower-priced Bibles and outwear such leathers, but at the same time will have all the virtues of a leather-bound book, including its attractive appearance and pliability.

Bibles bound in this new material should open a wide field for jobbers, for they will give the same satisfaction that is obtained from the sale of a Bible bound in genuine leather.

This new material must not be confounded with the many unsatisfactory, foul-smelling substitutes for leather that have heretofore been used in binding Bibles. It is a new material that has never before been used for Bible bindings, and produces a result that is rich, flexible, and durable. It meets the requirements of the Bureau of Standards of the United States Government for a material that is stronger than leather.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren.
13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The genealogy of Jesus Christ: 18 Mary's miraculous conception; 19 Joseph is minded to put her away privily: 20 but is warned in a dream: 21, 23 his names.

THE book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren;

3 And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram;

4 And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon;

5 And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse;

6 And Jesse begat David the king; and David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias;

7 And Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa;

8 And Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias;

9 And Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias;

10 And Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josias;

11 And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Babylon:

12 And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorobabel;

13 And Zorobabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor;

14 And Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud;

15 And Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob;

16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS:

CHAPTER 1.

1 The genealogy of Jesus Christ: 18 Mary's miraculous conception; Jesus is born: 21, 23 his names.

THE book of the generation of Jē'sus Christ, the son of Dā'vid, the son of ā'bra-hām.

2 ā'bra-hām begat I'saac; and I'saac begat Jā'cob; and Jā'cob begat Jū'das and his brethren;

3 And Jū'das begat Phā'rēs and Zā'rà of Thā'mär, and Phā'rēs begat Ēs'rom; and Ēs'rom begat ā'rām;

4 And ā'rām begat Am-i-nā'dab; and Am-i-nā'dab begat Nā'as-son; and Nā'as-son begat Sal'mon;

5 And Sal'mon begat Bō'oz of Ra'chab; and Bō'oz begat O'bed of Ruth; and O'bed begat Jes'se;

6 And Jes'se begat Dā'vid the king; and Dā'vid the king begat Sol'o-mon of her that had been the wife of U-rī'as;

7 And Sol'o-mon begat Rō-bō'am; and Rō-bō'am begat A-bī'a; and A-bī'a begat Ā'sa;

8 And Ā'sa begat Jō-sa'phat; and Jō-sa'phat begat Jō'ram; and Jō'ram begat O-zī'as;

9 And O-zī'as begat Jō-a'tham; and Jō-a'tham begat Ā'chaz; and Ā'chaz begat Ez-e-kī'as;

10 And Ez-e-kī'as begat Man-as'ses; and Man-as'ses begat A'mon; and A'mon begat Jō-sī'as;

11 And Jō-sī'as begat Jech-o-nī'as and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Bab'y-lon:

12 And after they were brought to Bab'y-lon, Jech-o-nī'as begat Sal-a'thi-el; and Sal-a'thi-el begat Zo-rob'a-bel;

13 And Zo-rob'a-bel begat A-bī'ud; and A-bī'ud begat E-lī'a-kim; and E-lī'a-kim begat A'zor;

14 And A'zor begat Sā'dōc; and Sā'dōc begat Ach'im; and Ach'im begat E-lī'ud;

15 And E-lī'ud begat El-ē-ā'zar; and El-ē-ā'zar begat Mat'than; and Mat'than begat Jā'cob;

16 And Jā'cob begat Jō'seph the husband of Mā'rỹ, of whom was born Jē'sus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Bab'y-lon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Bab'y-lon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 Now the birth of Jē'sus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mā'rỹ was espoused to Jō'seph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Hō'lỹ Ghōst.

19 Then Jō'seph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jō'seph, thou son of Dā'vid, fear not to take unto thee Mā'rỹ thy wife:

TEXT BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

Modern Arrangement That Makes This Bible More Usable

It has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has the chapter numbers of each of the Books of the Bible in Arabic numerals and also gives the sequential number of each chapter in the Bible; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; contains colored maps of the Holy Lands.

The Size Commends It For Many Uses

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

TEACHERS' BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

The Highest Development of Modern Progress

In addition to the large clear type, the full contents also commend this Bible. It contains the Authorized Version of the Old and New Testaments, with sixty thousand references in the center column; has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; has the most accurate, most usable aids to Bible study to be found in any Bible; and has seventeen colored maps of the Holy Lands.

New Type of Teachers' Aids to Bible Study

The logical arrangement of the helps is another improvement and a great convenience. All the aids (covering over 400 pages), including Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Dictionary, etc., etc., are under one Alphabetical Arrangement instead of separate headings as employed in the old type of Bible. Furthermore, these new helps are illustrated and are the only helps printed from black face type to be found in any Bible, which makes them more readable and useful.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

Specimen Page and Explanation of CLEARNUTYPE Bible

The type is larger, clearer and more easily read than any other pronouncing Bible of same size.

At the head of each page is given the approximate date of the incident referred to on that page

The Books of the Bible are printed in this clear type on the outer edge, which enables one to find any book in the Bible quickly by simply bending over the upper corner. Many Bible-users prefer this to having an expensive index cut on the edge.

All through the Bible the proper words are accented and divided into syllables, which makes pronunciation easy. This feature is useful, especially in the Old Testament which abounds with difficult words.

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that [z]Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ă'bră-hăm, saying, [y]God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 Now therefore [z]swear unto me here by God [1]that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ă'bră-hăm said, I will swear.

25 And Ă'bră-hăm reproved Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch because of a well of water, which Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch's servants had violently [a]taken away.

26 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.

27 And Ă'bră-hăm took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch; and both of them [b]made a covenant.

28 And Ă'bră-hăm set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ă'bră-hăm, [c]What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that [d]they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he [e]called that place [2]Bē'er-shē'bà; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at Bē'er-shē'bà: then Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the [f]land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

33 ¶ And Ă'bră-hăm planted a [3]grove in Bē'er-shē'bà, and called there on the name of the LORD, the [g]everlasting God.

34 And Ă'bră-hăm sojourned in the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' land many days.

22 CHAPTER 22.

1 Abraham offers Isaac. 13 A ram substituted. 15 Abraham blessed. 20 Nahor's offspring.

AND it came to pass after these things, that [a]God did tempt Ă'bră-hăm, and said unto him, Ă'bră-hăm: and he said, [1]Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, [b]Take now thy son, thine only son Ĭ'şaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land [c]of Mŏ-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

3 ¶ And Ă'bră-hăm [d]rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Ĭ'şaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then on the third day Ă'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

5 And Ă'bră-hăm said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

6 And Ă'bră-hăm took the wood of the burnt offering, and [e]laid it upon Ĭ'şaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

7 And Ĭ'şaac spake unto Ă'bră-hăm his father, and said, My father: and he said, [2]Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the [3]lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ă'bră-hăm said, My son, God will provide himself [f]a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Ă'bră-hăm built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and [g]bound Ĭ'şaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ă'bră-hăm [h]stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

11 And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, Ă'bră-hăm, Ă'bră-hăm: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, [i]Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now [j]I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

13 And Ă'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ă'bră-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering [k]in the stead of his son.

14 And Ă'bră-hăm called the name of that place [4]Jĕ-hō'vah–jī'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the LORD called unto Ă'bră-hăm out of heaven the second time,

16 And said, [l]By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the [m]stars of the heaven, and as the [n]sand which is upon the sea [5]shore; and thy seed shall [o]possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And [p]in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because [q]thou hast obeyed my voice.

19 So Ă'bră-hăm returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Bē'er-shē'bà; and Ă'bră-hăm dwelt at Bē'er-shē'bà.

Mō'ab, in the hill that is before Je-ru'sa-lèm; and for Mō'lech, the abomination of the children of Ăm'mon.

8 And likewise did he for all his strange wives, which burnt incense, and sacrificed unto their gods.

9 And the LORD was angry with Sŏl'o-mon, because his heart was turned from the LORD God of Is'ra-el, which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

11 Wherefore the LORD said unto Sŏl'o-mon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

25 And he was an adversary to Is'ra-el all the days of Sŏl'o-mon, beside the mischief that Hā'dăd did: and he abhorred Is'ra-el, and reigned over Sȳr'i-a.

26 And Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, an Ĕph'rath-īte of Zĕr'e-da, Sŏl'o-mon's servant, (whose mother's name was Ze-ru'ah, a widow woman,) even he lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Sŏl'o-mon built Mil'lo, and repaired the breaches of the city of Dā'vid his father.

28 And the man Jĕr-o-bō'am was a mighty man of valour: and Sŏl'o-mon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Jō'seph.

29 And it came to pass at that time, when Jĕr-o-bō'am went out of Je-ru'sa-

It is confidently believed that this Teachers' Handy Bible Encyclopedia will be found to contain more practical aid to the students and teachers than the helps found in other Teachers' Bibles. The experience of recent years has brought much additional light upon many subjects of Biblical knowledge, has shown that the plan of Bible Aids could be improved, and has also revealed a need among teachers, ministers, and Bible readers for a more popular handbook with the information written in language free from the technicalties of scholars. The work of simplifying was assigned to Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D., widely known as a Biblical scholar and as a TEACHER OF TEACHERS in the Sunday-school. Some of the improvements in this work over other Bible commentaries are noteworthy. (See full description on next page.)

WHAT IS INDIA BIBLE PAPER? "A thin, soft, absorbent paper, usually of a pale buff tint, made in China and Japan, and imitated in Europe and the United States, where it is used for the first or finest impressions of engravings, called India Proofs."—Century Dictionary.

"INTERNATIONAL" India Paper is much more. It is not an imitation but an original paper made for "International" Bibles. It has superior strength and is of such marvelous opacity that the print on one side of the page cannot be seen through on the other side.

"INTERNATIONAL" India Bible paper instead of being of a light buff color, is made in the bright color so much desired by Bible readers.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS, 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

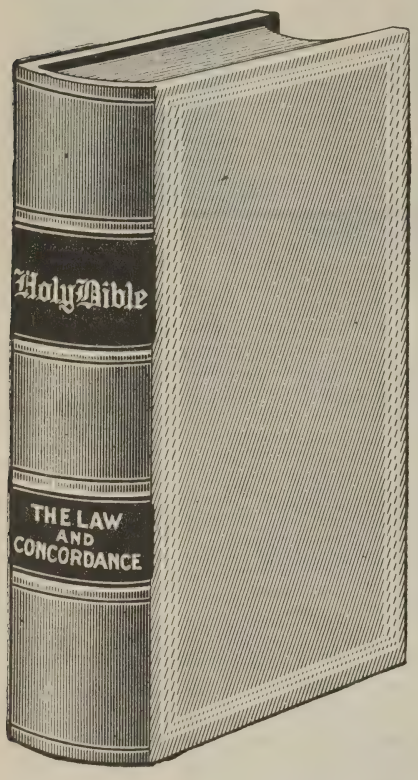
LAW LIBRARY BIBLE



The Bible, with the Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, Bound Especially for Lawyers in Law Library Binding

SELF-PRONOUNCING TEXT

COMPLETE RED-LETTER FEATURES

Clear Print Extra Quality Paper

The Old Testament is the basis of all law, and the New Testament is the foundation of all modern principals of social justice which are closely connected with present-day legislation; yet few lawyers possess a volume of The Law in their libraries. The new "International" Law Library Bible has been prepared particularly to supply this deficiency.

It is bound in Law Library Buckram, sheep style, with leather labels, to conform with the usual appearance of a law book. It indicates by the use of red ink all the types and prophecies in the Old Testament pointing to Christ, all the references in the center column of the Old Testament referring to the words uttered by Christ, all the passages in the Old Testament quoted by Christ, and all the words of Christ in the New Testament. It contains the Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, under one alphabetical arrangement, printed in bold-face type, as described on page 28 and the following insert, with seventeen maps of the Bible lands.

—THE—

EASIEST READING BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

EVERY PAGE IS HELPFUL AND LEADS TO FURTHER DISCOVERY OF THE GREATEST TRUTHS IN GOD'S WORD

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

H 6 And it [g]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [h]grieved him at his heart.

7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. H. 19. 12. 13.

8 But Nō'ah [i]found grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and [4]perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

C 12 And God looked [5]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. C. Exod. 20. 5.

F 13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [6]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [5]with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of gopher wood; [6]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. F. 6. 20.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, [7]behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth [m]shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

F 20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive. F. 6. 22.

21 And take thou unto thee of all [n]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 [o]Thus did Nō'ah; [p]according to all F that God commanded him, so did he.

CHAPTER 7. F. 12. 1–4

1 Noah, with his family, and the living creatures, enter into the ark. 17 The beginning, increase, and continuance of the flood. 21 All flesh destroyed.

AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, O Come [a]thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous [b]before me in this generation. O. 15. 6.

2 Of every [c]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by [1]sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and [d]I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I [2]destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all [e]that the LORD commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 And [f]Nō'ah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,

9 There went in two and two unto Nō'ah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah.

10 And it came to pass [3]after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the [g]fountains of the great deep broken up, and [4][h]the [i]windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the selfsame day entered Nō'ah, and Shĕm, and Hăm, and

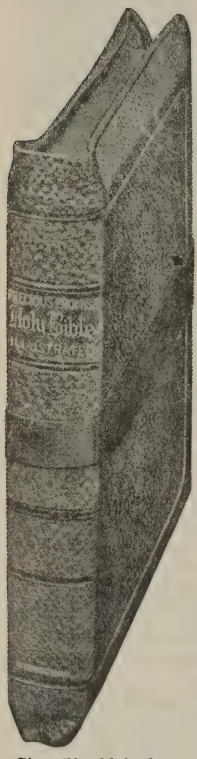
A Galaxy of Promises Like the Milky Way in the Heavens

The "International" Self-Pronouncing

Precious Promise Bible

Being the Authorized Version of the Scriptures with the Exceedingly Great and Precious Promises Indexed and Marked in Red



Size, 5½ x 8⅛ inches

That which inspires more searching of the Scriptures than any other of their varied contents is the promises In anxiety, in perplexity, in disappointment, in poverty, in loneliness, in sorrow, we turn to this book for guidance, for strength, for comfort, and for cheer. Imagine a Bible with all its promises stricken out, and blank spaces in their stead —would many people spend time in reading such a Bible?

Marks the Promises of Help for Every Human Need in Every Home

Even though one be a daily reader of the Bible, it is not always easy to find or to recall from so large a volume the text needed at some special hour. Profound scholars of the Bible have done this for us in the most simplified form in the PRECIOUS PROMISE BIBLE, and have brought the treasures of the Scriptures to light. Each promise is marked in red, and all the promises are divided into classes. Each class is so indicated and tied together that the reader can easily trace any class of promises through the Bible from text to text, and find for himself a wealth of promises upon any subject desired.

Precious Promise Subjects Marked in this Bible

- A. ALL THINGS Working Together for Good.
- B. The Lord's BLESSING on fields and flocks.
- C. CLOTHING Provided for God's Children.

- W. WHOSOEVER WILL May be Saved.

EXPLANATION

In the Precious Promise Bible is an Index (shown in reduced size above) in which the promises are classified under different subjects, and a letter is used to stand for the principal word of each subject.

After each subject in the Index there is a reference to the first verse in the Old Testament and also a reference to the first verse in the New Testament on that subject. Underneath each subject in the Index there are several references to the most important verses in the Scriptures on that subject.

The letter which stands for each subject is printed on the margin of every promise on that subject. The letter which stands for each subject is also used in front of every reference on that subject.

After every promise marked in this Bible there is a reference to the next promise on the same subject. This enables any person to go through the Bible and read every promise on any particular subject.

"International" Precious Promise Bible

A. D. 31.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your [f]Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. K. 7. 7–11.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: [g]Our Father which art in heaven, [h]Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, [i]as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our [j]daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. F. verses 25–34.

13 And [k]lead us not into temptation, but deliver [l]us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Ā-mĕn'.

14 For [m]if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But [n]if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶Moreover [o]when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. U. verse 33.

19 ¶Lay [p]not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But [q]lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The [r]light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, [s]how great is that darkness!

24 No [t]man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. [u]Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, [v]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 Behold [w]the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Sŏl'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gĕn'tiles seek:) for [x]your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But [y]seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. U. 13. 8.

34 Take therefore no [z]thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. C. 10. 10.

L. 16. 18. P. 10. 10.*

CHAPTER 7.

Christ endeth his sermon on the mount.

JUDGE [a]not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: [b]and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 And [c]why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ¶Give [d]not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS THE INDEX OR KEY, directs the reader to the first verse in the Old Testament and the New Testament on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. This same method is followed in the eighteen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Precious Promises.

2 Ā'bră-hăm begat Ī'saac; and Ī'saac begat Jā'cob; and Jā'cob begat Jū'das and his brethren;

3 And Jū'das begat Phā'rēs and Zā'rà of Thā'mar; and Phā'rēs begat Ĕs'rom; and Ĕs'rom begat Ā'ram;

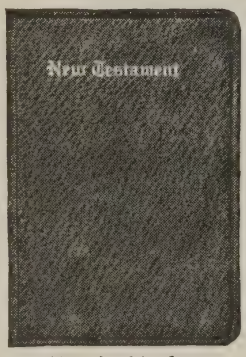
The New Bold Face Type Testament

WITH EXPLANATORY NOTES AND COMPLETE INDEX



Size, 4 x 6 inches

The specimen of type reproduced here shows the Bold Face type from which this Testament is printed. This type is large, clear, and restful to the eye—making this the easiest-reading Testament to be found anywhere. It also shows the foot-notes (printed right on the pages with the corresponding text) and the interpolated explanations which divide the gospel into logical, coherent sections without disturbing the old, but arbitrary, division into chapters and verses. These foot-notes and interpolations clear up obscure points in the text without the inconvenience and time-consuming task of referring to a commentary. Through the employment of this very latest developement of modern Bible-making, this Self-Interpreting Testament takes its place as the most understandable New Testament yet published.

A COPYRIGHTED INDEX FOR FINDING ANY WORD IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

A special feature of this Testament is the complete index by which any verse in the New Testament may be found by looking alphabetically for any important word contained in that verse. It is a combination concordance and subject index, and makes this edition of the New Testament of particular value to all who want to obtain the fullest value from the Scriptures.

Printed on the famous "thin Bible paper" used in many of the "International" Bibles, this Testament is only 4 x 6 inches in size.

The "International"

Christian Worker's Testament

Indexed and marked by the best methods of Bible marking on all subjects connected with

THE THEME OF SALVATION

Enable any person to turn rapidly to verses on these subjects. To give Bible Readings at a moment's notice, or to tell at a glance the subject of any verse or passage marked

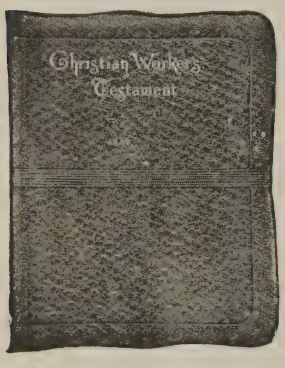
THE TESTAMENT MADE EASY TO READ

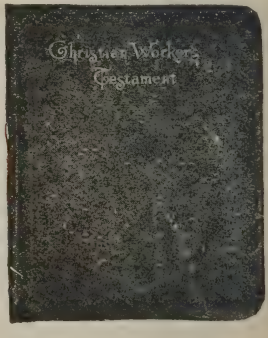
In the plan of this Testament Salvation is recognized as the dominant theme in the New Testament. Undoubtedly the greatest benefit in the reading of the Testament comes to the one who searches the Scriptures for himself and finds this stream of salvation running through its pages. But it is evident that the majority of people, even Bible readers and Bible-lovers have neither the time for such deep study nor the peculiar ability which it requires. People in general who would best understand their Bibles must depend upon those who have made a special study of these subjects and must receive the result of their labors. We cannot all be close students, but we can all be diligent readers of the Word of God.

Helpful to Every Class of Scripture Readers

Many methods have been devised for guiding Bible readers and of helping them to become Bible students, but the most ingenious and most helpful of these methods is that presented in this edition of the Testament.

Every class of Scripture students will find enjoyment and benefit in this system of marking. Ministers can use it to advantage. It will enable Lay Workers to interest and impress a company of listeners. The Sunday School Teacher will find it helpful. To the Y. M. C. A. Worker this is a marked Testament of which the key always hangs at the door. If anyone is inquiring the way of salvation what better plan can be suggested than to put this volume in his hands with the recommendation to read from it the texts on that topic which he most needs for his guidance.





In Handsome and Convenient Form

The Christian Worker's Testament is carefully printed from new type-set plates in red and black inks on extra quality of bright, rag Bible paper and is issued in a convenient size 3¾ x 4 inches.

For specimen of type and explanation of markings and exact size of Testament, see the following page.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see above). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable any one to give a Bible reading, at a moment's notice, on any subject marked in the Testament.

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see above).

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:
26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?
27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.
28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.
29 Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.
A 30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. A. Mark 9. 40.
L 31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. L. 18. 11-13.
H 32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. H. ver. 41, 42.

C T 34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. T. Mark 5. 19.
35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. C. 13. 14, 15.
J 36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. J. ver. 41.
37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.
38 ¶ Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.
39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:
40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.
32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.
33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.
34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jĕ'sus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jĕ'sus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

20 ¶ Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

33 Pē'tĕr answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 Jĕ'sus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Pē'tĕr said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ Then cometh Jĕ'sus with them unto a place called Gĕth-sĕm'a-nē, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 And he took with him Pē'tĕr and the two sons of Zĕb'e-dee, and began to be sorrowful and

[f]Rom. 12. 18. & 14. 19 2 Cor. 13. 11. Heb. 12. 14

CHAPTER 10.

Jesus answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce. 13 He blesseth little children; 17 answereth the rich young man; 23 and sheweth how hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 28 The reward of those who forsake all and follow him. 32 He again foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 35 The request of James and John. 42 Jesus exhorteth to humility. 46 He healeth blind Bartimeus at Jericho.

A.D. 33.

AND [a]he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Ju-de'a by the farther side of Jor'dan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

[a]Matt.19.1 John 10. 40. & 11. 7.

2 ¶ [b]And the Phar'i-sees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting

[b]Matt.19.3

A.D. 33.

[l]Ex. 20. Rom. 13. 9

18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.
19 Thou knowest the commandments, [l]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.
20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.
21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m]treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.
23 ¶ [n]And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

[n]Matt. 19. 23. Luke 18.24

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them [o]that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

[o]Job 31. 24 Ps. 52. 7. & 62. 10. 1 Tim. 6.17

POETRY AND BELLES LETTRES

THE SONG OF ROLAND

THE SONG OF ROLAND. Translated into Metrical Verse by Leonard Bacon, Instructor in English, University of California.

"Leonard Bacon has cleverly turned the 'Song of Roland' into the metre of Lord Macaulay's 'Virginia.' The rendering is both spirited and faithful. . . . The reader who takes up this volume in order to get some notion of the poem, in the patriotic spirit of which France is doubtless finding inspiration today, as she has found it in the past, will not, we venture to say, turn away disappointed."—The Nation.

8vo. Board binding. 164 pages. Price $1.50 net.

Beegle, Mary Porter and Jack Randall Crawford
COMMUNITY DRAMA AND PAGEANTRY

COMMUNITY DRAMA AND PAGEANTRY. By Mary Porter Beegle, of Barnard College, Columbia University, and Jack Randall Crawford, M.A., Instructor in English in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

"All the factors in the writing and the production of pageants are carefully, interestingly and comprehensively considered in 'Community Drama and Pageantry.' Miss Beegle acted as organizing chairman of the New York Shakespeare celebration and Mr. Crawford, like Miss Beegle, has long been active in the production of pageants. The volume is a practical manual, full of definite hints and suggestions. The amateur particularly has been kept in mind in the sections on writing the pageant book, on staging the pageant, on details of costuming and lighting, of color schemes and rehearsals, of music and general organization. For those who would go further in their researches, an unusually extensive bibliography of more than seventy pages is provided."—Newark Evening News.

8vo. Cloth binding; hand-made paper sides. Gilt top. End papers in color. 370 pages. Photogravure frontispiece. 15 illustrations. Index. Price $2.50 net.

Benét, William Rose
THE FALCONER OF GOD AND OTHER POEMS

THE FALCONER OF GOD, AND OTHER POEMS. By William Rose Benét.

"'The Falconer' is as noble a poem as has appeared in America, at least for several years. It has majesty, assurance of wing, and clearness of sight, and depicts the marauding aspirations of youth that bring to earth only a dead quarry after all its sweep of pinions and tenacious claws."—New York Times.

"Mr. William Rose Benét is the comet that flashes across the firmament of contemporary American poetry. His latest book, 'The Falconer of God,' has the daring, the nobility, the wide range and insolent abundance of true poetic genius."—American Review of Reviews.

12mo. 122 pages. Board binding, $1.00 net; limp leather binding, $1.50 net.

Berdan, John Milton

THE POEMS OF JOHN CLEVELAND

THE POEMS OF JOHN CLEVELAND. Edited by John Milton Berdan, ph.d., Assistant Professor of Rhetoric, Yale College.

"It is creditable to the literary study of today that such a modern edition is forthcoming."—Current Literature.

"The whole volume represents the intelligent painstaking by which alone such works are rendered valuable."—New York Times.

COMMON CONDITIONS. Being the First Issue in the Elizabethan Club Reprints. Edited by Tucker Brooke, Assistant Professor of English, Yale College.

"With this black-letter reprint of 'a newe and pleasant comedie or play,' the Elizabethan Club, representing the scholarship and taste of America, makes a highly promising start in its publishing enterprise. . . . Thus an old English play has received merited attention in a way that proves how thoroughly alive American scholars are to the value of even by-ways in English literature, and how readily their services are recognized and supported here. . . . In an Appendix, Mr. Brooke proves himself throughout a cautious and expert guide, admirably handling his text, and providing indispensable help in his scholarly and suggestive notes."—Notes and Queries (London).

"Reproduced in a slightly enlarged facsimile, equipped with variant readings, notes, introduction, and appendices, it is, from the points of view of both scholarly apparatus and of external form, a really splendid example of modern book-making."—William Allan Neilson.

4to. Board binding. XV+90 pages. Price $2.50 net.

Brooks, Charles S.

JOURNEYS TO BAGDAD

JOURNEYS TO BAGDAD. By Charles S. Brooks. Illustrated with twenty-seven woodcuts by Allen Lewis.

"A book of essays which recalls in its whimsical study of little things no less an essayist than Elia, and in the long-sounding cadences of its prose, the writers of an older day. With the woes of the world it meddles not at all, but discourses at great length on the smell of old tarred rope, the course of evolution from night-caps to sleeping porches, and the eating of cream-puffs. . . . A delightful part of the book as it is issued by the Yale University Press, is the woodcuts, which have the same grotesqueness and rich fancy as the text. . . . The reader who can leave off improving his mind or accelerating his heart-beat for a while, and loaf at his ease with this book, will find in spite of himself that his mind is improved and his heart-beat quickened."—Springfield Republican.

"About a dozen random essays which in their quiet humor and fancy, their intimacy and charm of style, their quaint woodcuts in keeping with the text, their whimsical titles even, are reminiscent of an earlier and less hurried generation. A slight but attractive gift book for a gentle reader."—American Library Association Booklist.

(Third Printing.) 12mo. Board binding. Gilt top. 140 pages. 27 illustrations. In a slip case. Price $1.50 net.

Clapp, Frederick Mortimer

ON THE OVERLAND AND OTHER POEMS

ON THE OVERLAND AND OTHER POEMS. By Frederick Mortimer Clapp.

"Such poetry as Mr. Clapp's seems perhaps less unusual today than it might have seemed when a considerable part of it was written; that is to say, six or seven years ago. But its unusualness—now that so-called 'free verse' has become a familiar matter—if not so striking, is none the less real. . . . The poetry of 'On the Overland' stands in an integral relation to modern experimental and liberating tendencies. It is a manifestation in literature of the evolutionary principle in operation, rather than an application of demonstrated methods and formulæ. It has freshness and vitality, informed by intellect, passion and style. We have called Mr. Clapp's poetry unusual; it might be more precise to call it distinguished."—Porter Garnett.

Claudel, Paul

THE TIDINGS BROUGHT TO MARY

THE TIDINGS BROUGHT TO MARY. A Mystery. A Translation of "L'Annonce Faite à Marie" by Paul Claudel made by Louise Morgan Sill.

"M. Claudel is now famous in France, and Mrs. Sill's masterly translation is likely to be the foundation-stone of his fame in England. . . . M. Claudel has woven a strangely moving play, which holds one by its pathos, while at the same time it gives something of the impression of an illuminated page taken from a medieval manuscript. There is a sense of color and richness, due to M. Claudel's style, of gestures which are at once awkward and moving and picturesque, and of the self-imposed constraint of unquestioning and transcendent faith. Or imagine a drama by Mr. Yeats steeped in Catholicism instead of Celticism, with the Madonna instead of Deirdre, and one has some notion of the atmosphere which M. Claudel has created."—London Nation.

THE EAST I KNOW

THE EAST I KNOW. A Translation of "La Connaissance de l'Est," by Paul Claudel, made by Teresa Frances and William Rose Benét.

"As a recorder of the pathetic grace and squalor of the wonderful, vanishing East, the author stands, so far as the present writer's experience goes, without a rival."—The Athenæum.

"Poetic word-pictures of the life and spirit of the East, especially China, written by a man who is 'a dramatist of rare psychological insight and a poet of exquisite lyrical beauty.' M. Claudel has a very strong influence on young poets in Europe, especially in France, but this is his first introduction to American readers. The translators have preserved the spirit of the original."—American Library Association Booklist.

"A volume of prose poems by one of the greatest poets living in the world today. Although Paul Claudel is unknown to English readers, his influence is the strongest shaping force there is on the young poetry of most European countries. . . . I know of no living writer of whom we may more confidently predict immortality for his work. . . . If any reader can set down this volume without realizing that a great new force in literature and life has been born into the world, he is incapable of imaginative appreciation."—Anthology of American Poetry for 1914.

THE HOSTAGE. A Translation of "L'Otage" by Paul Claudel. With an Introduction by Pierre Chavannes.

It is a pleasure to announce the preparation of a translation of one of M. Claudel's best known and perhaps most characteristic plays.

One cannot analyze briefly a drama so rich in ideas as "The Hostage." One can only say that it is the eternal story of the struggle between that which remains and that which passes.

What, however, Mr. Dodd's poems do embody is a healthy, tenderly vigorous substance." —William Stanley Braithwaite in the Boston Transcript.

POEMS

POEMS. By Brian Hooker, M.A.

"A first volume of verse that more than fulfills the rich promise of his occasional published poems."—Review of Reviews.

"His imagination is incisive, but quiet, taking on frequently a glow full of dim figures like a gorgeous tapestry seen in the twilight. There is more glamour in Mr. Hooker's poems than in the poems of all the other books put together. He is a modern romantic poet, and it makes very little difference whether he sings of age-old things and figures as in 'Morven and the Grail,' or in the narrative of 'The White Cat: A Fairy Poem,' his heart and sympathies are in the nowadays of human motives. . . . What I have noticed particularly about Mr. Hooker's art is the cool, fragrant hushed movement of his words. His poems are foliaged with words like a tree with leaves, always in motion and flashing with the freshness of a shower in their faces. His sonnets are very fine and perfect."—W. S. FAIRYLAND

FAIRYLAND. The Book of the Opera. By Brian Hooker, M.A.

"In the poetic opera, 'Fairyland,' Mr. Brian Hooker has given us an alluring text. . . . The story and significance connect themselves more directly with Maeterlinck and his remarkable plays. . . . The normal happiness of ennobled daily life is set above all artificial and oppressive distinctions. This theme is presented in a well-conceived form, picturesque, simple, interesting. . . . The story and the pictures are sufficient, the characters awaken admiration and comment, the poetry is melodious, and the echoes of internal meaning surround it with a rich and luminous atmosphere. . . . Ought to find audiences that will rejoice in its romantic color and movement. If here is an exemplification of what America is to do in musical drama, we may look forward hopefully to the evolution of an art that will not need to hide its diminished head before the achievements of other lands and times."—The Dial.

THE DIVINE COMEDY

THE DIVINE COMEDY. TRANSLATED BY HENRY JOHNSON, Director of the Museum of Fine Arts, Bowdoin College.

"To me it is the most satisfactory rendering, all things considered —fidelity to word and spirit and nature of metrical vehicle—that has hitherto appeared in the English language. . . . I believe he has succeeded better in transplanting the blossoms of the Dantesque honeysuckle hedge than have any of his predecessors. . . . The fidelity to word is most remarkable, while the obvious change in tense offers a striking illustration for correct comparison between Tuscan expression and our own. Let the reader familiar with the happiest and most subtle tropes of the original turn to them and I think he will read with satisfaction, if with no stronger emotion, Professor Johnson's rendering."—WALTER LITTLEFIELD in New York Times.

"A rendition of striking clarity and poetic loveliness, somewhat less literal than earlier standard versions, but entirely faithful in spirit to the original. . . . SAPPHO IN LEVKAS AND OTHER POEMS. By William Alexander Percy.

"There is indisputable poetry in this volume, poetry of a vivid, intense, yet restrained beauty. . . . Mr. Percy has revived a quality of passion in contemporary verse that has had little attention of late. . . . We have a magnificence that is rare, a flawlessness of expression in the old manner that is unusual. . . . A CENSUS OF SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS IN QUARTO

A CENSUS OF SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS IN QUARTO, 1594-1709. Prepared with an Introduction by Henrietta C. Bartlett and Alfred W. Pollard, M.A., of the British Museum. Published by the Elizabethan Club of Yale University in Memory of Thomas Raynesford Lounsbury.

"Nothing more eloquent of literary enthusiasm and bibliographical skill has recently been published than the folio volume containing 'A Census of Shakespeare's Plays in Quarto, 1594-1709.' . . . The volume is handsomely printed on deckle-edged paper, and bound in boards with white muslin back and paper label."—Boston Transcript.

"Issued at a timely date and in splendidly rich but chastely simple dress for the poet's celebration. . . . Within the covers of this volume, limited to 500 in edition, will be found precisely what the title indicates; a census so complete, so accurate and so skillfully set up that for librarians, for collectors of Shakespeareana and for the limited number of book purchasers who market in the field where the great libraries are and where great modern collectors stride up and down with fat purses, the book will be a necessary tool. By it they can follow volume after volume, edition after edition, play after play, in whatever state first issued and now bound and prized, from owner to owner and know its present habitat. Lost copies now unidentified as to site and owner are listed. Owners and binders of the placed copies likewise. Indeed on the 'apparatus side' nothing is wanting to make the book complete for its purposes. As for the introductory essay, it has had the shaping hand of Mr. Pollard, the British Museum expert, whose book on the folios and quartos of the poet is a standard. In this new essay may be found the history of the making, printing, vending, collecting and binding of the plays and volumes in question from their beginnings to their most recent London and New York sales. It is a record that, if a reader comes to it without any previous knowledge of the facts, will surprise him with the proportion of the quartos which now are to be found in the United States."—The Christian Science Monitor.

ENGLISH LITERATURE FROM WIDSITH TO THE DEATH OF CHAUCER

ENGLISH LITERATURE FROM WIDSITH TO THE DEATH OF CHAUCER. A Source Book. By Allen Rogers Benham, ph.d., Associate Professor of English, University of Washington.

Mr. Benham here offers students a source-book for the history of English literature. By quotations from contemporary materials he indicates the world in which Englishmen lived up to 1400. His selections have been made with skill and are based upon competent scholarship and mature consideration.

In order to provide for literary history what the source-book has offered history in general, the author has made selection among various types of literature of the period, including political, religious and social extracts as well as those more commonly known.

It is interesting to note the opinion of Professor Krey of the Department of History, University of Minnesota: "The book is the best source-book for the history of medieval civilization that I have seen and I hope that it will appeal to many workers in history as well as those in literature."

The mechanical treatment of the material has been planned to make the volume one of those rare text-books which the student will wish to retain for his library.

THE COVENT-GARDEN JOURNAL BY HENRY FIELDING

THE COVENT-GARDEN JOURNAL BY HENRY FIELDING. EDITED, WITH AN INTRODUCTION AND NOTES, BY GERARD E. JENSEN, PH.D., Instructor in English, University of Pennsylvania.

"Of all Fielding's journalistic enterprises the 'Covent-Garden Journal' is perhaps the one best worth reprinting and preserving, and Mr. Jensen, of Yale University, is to be thanked for his very good edition. . . . His introduction is full of information on the period and the circumstances, and his notes—unlike many notes—are neither dull nor impertinent. . . . To range through the 'Covent-Garden Journal' is to realize once more Fielding's greatness not so much of mind as of temper."—London Times.

" It is difficult to characterize this work of Mr. Jensen. To do so fairly, the critic must have Mr. Jensen's familiarity with the Greek and Latin classics, his faculty of research, his industry, his patience, his power to discriminate, and, above all, his familiarity with the literary and political life of the England of the eighteenth century. Nothing seems to have escaped Mr. Jensen. In his introduction of 129 pages, he gives us a picture of the London of 1752 that is at once vivid, impartial, and convincing, while the notes at the end of the second volume are a marvel of erudition and of accuracy. In searching for a comparison, one must hark back to Dr. Zachary Grey's 'redundant notes' on 'Hudibras.' . . . The more closely I have studied these volumes, the greater has become my admiration for the capacity and the performance of the editor. . . . The make-up of these volumes is unexceptionable, a proper tribute to the author, a deserved honor to the editor, and a flattering triumph to the Yale Press."—FREDERICK S. DICKSON.

Cross, PH.D., Dean of the Graduate School, Yale University, and Editor of the Yale Review.

"A masterly reconstruction of the circumstances of English literature in the thirty years during which Tennyson was gaining the unchallenged position he occupied in the final thirty years of his life. . . . Nowhere does the author allow himself to be choked by the dust of the back-numbers he disturbed from their silent sleep. Everywhere the author retains control of his vast mass of material and everywhere does he handle it with a fine artistic sense of its significance. Everywhere does he reveal his own fundamental characteristics, his fairness, his tolerance, his transparent honesty, his understanding of human nature, and his omnipresent sense of humor. He is never overcome by the burden of his material; he is never hurried; and he conducts his leisurely inquiry in accord with his large and liberal method."—Brander Matthews.

McAfee, Helen

PEPYS ON THE RESTORATION STAGE

PEPYS ON THE RESTORATION STAGE. Edited, with an Introduction, by Helen McAfee, m.a. (Published under the Auspices of the Elizabethan Club of Yale University.)

Lord Braybrooke retained the theatrical "notices" in the first edition of the "Memoirs of Samuel Pepys, Esq.," "at the risk," as he explained in the Preface, "of fatiguing those readers who have no taste for the concerns of the Drama."

Posterity has shown that his solicitude for the theatrical intelligence in the Diary was unnecessary. In fact, the entries relating to the theatre and drama in the period covered by Pepys, 1659-1669,—one of the most decisive decades in the history of the English stage—are perhaps the portions of the Diary most often cited.

Miss McAfee's compilation of this material, containing annotations made in the light of contemporary sources and of recent publications as well, shows how really remarkable was Pepys' familiarity with the Restoration stage, actors, playwrights and audiences. Her introductory chapters on the Critics and Pepys' Material on the Stage, Pepys as a Dramatic Historian, and Pepys and the Restoration Stage, form a delightful framework to the observations of the Diarist. The volume includes a bibliography.

Pierce, Frederick Erastus

SELECTIONS FROM THE SYMBOLIC POEMS OF WILLIAM BLAKE

SELECTIONS FROM THE SYMBOLIC POEMS OF WILLIAM BLAKE. Edited, with an Introduction, by Frederick E. Pierce, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

"Professor Pierce, by separating from the great mass of Blake's writings certain of the more coherent portions, has produced an attractive volume that will allure many a reader who would flee from the complete 'Prophetic Books' in dismay. . . . There stirs everywhere through the lines a high aerial vibrancy, an auroral flush of music, that rises into regions never touched by Swinburne's own superb but earthly tides of sound. . . . Though Blake was far from being the greatest of the poets, it may be doubted whether any human being has ever had a more intense light of poetry in his soul. . . . He was a great craftsman, often, in these fragments; and it is a well selected group of the fragments that Professor Pierce has brought together."—The Dial.

"Blake's genius lacked the architectonic quality to rear the edifice of his vision. No one will question that his vision was the most fiery and immense in any literature since Dante and Milton, but he was as helpless as those great poets were powerful in solidifying that vision in the elaborate and durable structure of language. His splendid ruin stands incomparable in aspects; a façade, column, cornice, portal, glittering with precious stones and ores in the dark mass of background. These Dr. Pierce has taken down for a kind of museum of Blake symbolism. By these the reader can get some idea of the meaning of all that other stupendous mysticism which has never clearly emanated from the infinitely dim regions of the poet's imagination."—WILLIAM STANLEY BRAITHWAITE in the Boston Transcript.

ESSAYS ON MILTON. By Elbert N. S. Thompson, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English, State University of Iowa.

"A modest but sound and pleasant introduction to the most scholarly of the English poets. He has wisely allowed himself to dwell frequently on that large idealism which no sane reader is likely to miss, and which is the undying part of Milton's genius. . . . The knowledge the book imparts is well selected. In the insertion of scholarly information Professor Thompson shows much tact; the average reader will be surprised to find how many facts, those despised impediments to the literary spirit, have obtruded upon his attention without offence. The secret of this happy result is that the facts are illuminating, and every page, facts and all, bespeaks a deep love of the subject. This is the sort of book to increase appreciation of poetry. JOHN MILTON: TOPICAL BIBLIOGRAPHY. Compiled by Elbert N. S. Thompson, ph.d.

Mr. Thompson has already published a volume of essays on Milton and for some years has made the poet his especial study. His selections for this topical bibliography have been made with discrimination and accurate scholarship.

No adequate bibliography of Milton's works has hitherto been made and the present volume will be of service not only to students, but also to librarians, as a reference catalogue of available material on Milton.

Wells, John Edwin

A MANUAL OF THE WRITINGS IN MIDDLE ENGLISH

A MANUAL OF THE WRITINGS IN MIDDLE ENGLISH, 1050-1400. By John Edwin Wells, m.l., m.a., ph.d., Professor of English Literature, Beloit College. (Connecticut Academy Publication.)

"The work is not a history, but a handbook. It seeks to record the generally accepted views of scholars on pertinent matters, and does not pretend to offer new theories or investigations. It is unique in that, besides attempting to deal with all the extant writings of the period in print, it groups each piece with the others of its kind; indicates its probable date, or the limitations as to its date, its MS. or MSS., the probable date of its MS. or MSS., its form and extent, commonly the dialect in which it was first composed, and its source or sources when known; presents comments on each longer production, with an abstract of its contents; and supplies a bibliography for each composition.

"The abstracts and indications of contents are offered in the hope of interesting the general reader in the literature of the period, and of affording the special student means for a readier apprehension and comparison of the individual productions."—From the Author's Preface.

A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THOMAS GRAY. Compiled by Clark Sutherland Northup, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English, Cornell University. (Cornell Studies in English.)

This bibliography presents as complete a record as possible of the editions of Thomas Gray's works, together with a list of all reviews, critical notices and studies relating to him that have thus far appeared. The author has made the work full in order to indicate the extent of Gray's popularity and influence. From a technical point of view, the compilation has been exceedingly well done.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MEDIEVAL FRENCH LITERATURE FOR COLLEGE LIBRARIES

A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MEDIEVAL FRENCH LITERATURE FOR COLLEGE LIBRARIES. By Lucien Foulet. Edited by Albert Schinz, ph.d., and George H. Underwood, ph.d., Department of French Language and Literature, Smith College.

"The Bibliography will be of the highest service to colleges founding a collection of the kind, university librarians will do well to assure themselves that the books included in it are all on their shelves, and students having access to large libraries will find it of assistance in the choice of books to read. Specially commendable is the use of asterisks to mark more important works. . . . A convenient addition, rarer than it should be in bibliographies of the kind, is the indication of prices, occasionally high, at which the firm of Champion is prepared to furnish the books. The selection of texts in the list is abundant and excellent. . . . Professor Foulet has done his work with unusual competence and success."—D. S. Blondheim in Modern Language Notes.

THE INFLUENCE OF ISOCRATES ON CICERO, DIONYSIUS AND ARISTIDES. By Harry Mortimer Hubbell, ph.d., Assistant Professor of Greek, Yale College.

"Here we have a careful study of the authors concerned, a full setting-out of the relevant passages, an apparatus, in short, which will save the student great labor, and a number of suggestions which he will find fruitful of guidance. Isocrates is, as Edward Meyer suggests, essential to the study of the fourth century B. INSCRIPTIONS IN THE YALE BABYLONIAN COLLECTION

MISCELLANEOUS INSCRIPTIONS IN THE YALE BABYLONIAN COLLECTION. By Albert T. Clay, ph.d., William M. Laffan Professor of Assyriology and Babylonian Literature, Yale University. (Yale Oriental Series, Babylonian Texts, Vol. I.)

"Rarely is a volume issued which contains such a wealth of new and interesting material. . . . It is fortunate that inscriptions of such importance as these should be published by a scholar who has probably no superior as an editor of cuneiform texts. The scientific character of the introduction will be appreciated by all scholars and the interpretation of the texts makes their contents accessible to the uninitiated in the difficult art of Sumerian and Babylonian decipherment. Scholars await with interest the succeeding volumes of this series."—M. L. Hussey in the Congregationalist.

"Semitic philologists will welcome with joy the publication of the first volume of the Yale Oriental series. . . . The material is of a miscellaneous character covering a period of between 4000 and 5000 years. The volume includes historical texts, votive and building inscriptions, a dynastic list, date lists, a tablet containing the most ancient laws known, a fragment of the Hammurabi code, and also of a boundary stone, a mortuary inscription, a syllabary and others. The translation and explanations show careful work and bear out the reputation of the author as a careful investigator and one of the foremost Assyriologists,"—Springfield Republican.

THE DATED ALEXANDER COINAGE OF SIDON AND AKE

THE DATED ALEXANDER COINAGE OF SIDON AND AKE. By Edward T. Newell, Curator of the Numismatic Collections, Yale University. (Yale Oriental Series, Researches, Vol. II.)

The stirring events of history under Alexander the Great and his immediate successors are reflected in the coinage of two of the most important cities of the time. From their coins it is possible to read the history of the commerce of that day—the conquests of Alexander and the struggle for the possession of the Phœnician seaboard, under the famous generals Perdiccas, Ptolemy, Antigonus and Demetrius.

The material at the author's disposal has enabled him to vitally correct and amplify the series of known dates on the Ake coins; to show what were the opening issues of the Sidonian mint under Alexander the Great; and to add an entirely new series of gold coins to the well-known silver coinage of this mint.

Mr. Newell's information in regard to the size, duration and composition of the coin issues of the two cities will be of especial value to numismatists.

Clapp, Frederick Mortimer

JACOPO CARUCCI DA PONTORMO

JACOPO CARUCCI DA PONTORMO. His Life and Work. By Frederick Mortimer Clapp, m.a.

As a draughtsman, Pontormo is ranked after Michelangelo and Leonardo as the greatest which Europe has produced. As a portraitist, he is the most modern of the Old Masters. His education was in the Old School, but he absorbed more vitally than his contemporaries the influence of Michelangelo.

A singular spirit—lonely, whimsical, poor, proud, laborious, frugal—it is interesting to follow his development as it is outlined in his Diary, which Mr. Clapp has reconstructed and analyzed. (The Diary, included in the Appendix, has never been published before.)

Mr. Clapp's treatment of the subject falls into: the text, covering Pontormo's life and work; the appendix; and a catalogue raisonné, prepared after five years of travel and study of Pontormo's work from Sicily to Scotland.

One of the most valuable features of the work is the illustrations. In them, the author has included perhaps his greatest argument for Pontormo's greatness.

Professor Frank Jewett Mather of Princeton University welcomes the book as "the most important work on painting at once written by an American and published by an American Press."

Goodyear, William Henry

GREEK REFINEMENTS

GREEK REFINEMENTS. By William Henry Goodyear, M.A., Curator of Fine Arts, Brooklyn Institute Museum.

"It is the great distinction of Mr. Goodyear to have established the existence of these 'refinements' in a number of ancient and mediæval buildings, among others, the Maison Carrée at Nimes, 1891; no one before him had suspected that the mediæval builders had followed the principles of the Greek artists. It is quite true that he has been treated as a visionary, the attempt has been made to explain everything (as the Germans say wegerklaren) by the magical word 'settlement'; but, today, it is clear that Mr. Goodyear has won his case. . . . Mr. Goodyear shows absolute loyalty in stating that his explanations have been foreshadowed by Hoffer and Bontmy, just as the facts on which his argument rests were first established (1837-1838) by Hoffer, Penrose and Pennethorne; but his own merit is such that he is able to add to it, without fear, by recognizing that of his predecessors. (There is an admirable index; the illustrations are excellent.)"—Salomon Reinach in Revue Archéologique.

LOMBARD ARCHITECTURE

LOMBARD ARCHITECTURE. Volume IV. (Atlas.) By Arthur Kingsley Porter.

"Lombard Architecture" is a study of Romanesque art of Northern Italy from the sixth to the thirteenth century. The text will include a résumé of the history of this style, its development, and the influence it exerted upon and received from the other architectural schools of Europe. The intricacies of its development are presented in a chronological chart showing the progress of the Lombard style in so far as it may be traced by monuments of authenticated date.

The work will contain, further, appendices indicating the geographical and chronological limits and distribution of the most important characteristics of the style, a bibliography of about a thousand words and a catalogue raisonné of the extant monuments of the Lombard style with a separate monograph upon each one.

The work will be issued in four volumes, of which the fourth, i.e., an atlas containing about 1200 illustrations, including original photographs and over forty measured drawings, has alone been published. The first three volumes are now in preparation and will be ready for publication in the spring of 1917.

Experts have long held these paintings worthy of a special pilgrimage and the publication of a catalogue of the Collection has long been under consideration. In celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the foundation of the Yale School of the Fine Arts, the University authorities have made the necessary arrangements, selecting as the critic best fitted to prepare a catalogue of genuine historic value Dr. Osvald Sirén, Professor of the History of Art in the University of Stockholm.

Dr. Sirén has prepared a gallery guide to the Collection, arranged chronologically and very fully annotated. The schools represented include the Tuscan, Florentine, Sienese, Central Italian, North Italian, Venetian, Late Italian and several Non-Italian schools.

Eighty-four full pages of heliotype plates reproduce the best of the paintings.

LEONARDO DA VINCI

LEONARDO DA VINCI. The Artist and the Man. By Osvald Sirén.

"We have met no book more thorough and penetrating than this solid work of Osvald Sirén, a Swedish author. . . . Beyond doubt it affords a most excellent means not only of following and estimating the character and personality of Leonardo, but of tracing his artistic growth, and judging the works and reputed works of the master that have come down to us. It is profusely and most carefully illustrated. . . . We have almost every touch of his pencil studied with minuteness and understanding, and with undoubted critical power."—Boston Transcript.

"Few novels could possess the interest of this splendid biography of one of the greatest artists the world has known. . . . Never has so full and complete a history of it from the standpoint of both artist and man been published. . . . It is a beautiful book, well printed, finely illustrated and written with that clearness of style which characterizes the best works in literature, indicating a thorough knowledge of the subject under consideration."—American Magazine of Art.

BOOKS RELATING TO YALE

Deming, Clarence

YALE YESTERDAYS

YALE YESTERDAYS. By the late Clarence Deming. Edited by the Members of his Family, with an Introduction by Henry W. Farnam, M.A., R.P.D.

"Certainly in 'Yale Yesterdays' the spring of College life wells universal. As one closes the book one feels that, though the Atlantic is between us, and for all our differences, the undergraduate in England and the undergraduate in New England, the College here and the College there, have more that allies them than divides. . . . The articles are by a practised writer. They are of the right length, and touch the right note. Altogether they make excellent reading."—Oxford Magazine.

"Not Yale men only but all who cherish memories of golden days on any college campus will find pleasant recollections of old places and customs freshened by 'Yale Yesterdays.' . . . Mr. Deming had a warmth of collegiate patriotism and a trenchant pen, well trained in journalism, that combined to make him a happy chronicler of the glories of Eli. . . . The book is most attractively made up and its content has, with all its fun, a vein of serious but not pedantic institutional history that should commend it to all graduates of Yale or of other colleges or of the extra-mural university of non-academic experience who share with Alma Mater in some degree the immortality of the spirit of youth."—New York Sun.

THE LITERARY DIARY OF EZRA STILES, D.D., LL.D.

EDITED BY FRANKLIN BOWDITCH DEXTER, LITT.D.

LITERARY DIARY OF EZRA STILES

In bequeathing his manuscripts to his successor in the presidency of Yale College, Ezra Stiles probably did not realize that his diary would be the one among them to live long years after the other pages had been forgotten. Yet this detailed account of his life, covering the years between 1769 and 1795, has come to be recognized as an historical record of ever-growing importance.

It is significant of its value that the present edition has been prepared under the authority of the Corporation of Yale University, by an editor appointed by it.

A SERIES OF EIGHT ETCHINGS OF YALE UNIVERSITY

"For something which did more than record the bare architectural facts, something which conveyed the spirit of the Campus, something which had independent value as a work of art, for anything of this sort Yale men have often looked in vain. Fortunately, this need no longer be true. Mr. Huc-Mazelet Luquiens, who has won reputation both for his etchings and his portraits, has been especially successful in choosing his points of view. The pictures have a charm which is wanting in any mere rendering of details of design and structure. . . . It is enough to say that the appearance of this series is an occasion for hearty congratulation, not only to Mr. Luquiens and to the Yale Press, but also to Yale men in general, who can now have what many of them have long desired."—WILLARD H. DURHAM in The Yale News.

Oviatt, Edwin

BEGINNINGS OF YALE

THE BEGINNINGS OF YALE. By Edwin Oviatt, Editor of the Yale Alumni Weekly. With illustrations by Theodore Diedricksen, Jr.

"'Easy-going chronicles of the beginnings of Yale'—thus the author characterizes his own book. And 'easy-going chronicles' they are, if one refers, not to the writer's, but to the reader's share in them. For, though they are based on wide and laborious research, there is nothing labored about their final form. The colloquial style in which they are written—the idiom of good talk—makes them delightfully easy reading; and the author's gift of getting the human 'feel' of any situation, has created, out of what might have been a dry if valuable record, an absorbingly interesting story. The narrative covers the development of the Connecticut collegiate idea from its inception in the mind of John Davenport through the final establishment, in 1716, of 'Yale College' in New Haven. Text and illustrations supplement each other in bringing out the values of the richly picturesque background, while in the foreground the old Connecticut divines, Davenport, Pierson, Andrew, Cutler and the rest, become alive again and full of individuality. The book is rather unusual in thus combining thoroughness in research with ease and vividness in rendering."—Elisabeth Woodbridge.

MEMORIALS OF EMINENT YALE MEN

MEMORIALS OF EMINENT YALE MEN. A Biographical Study of Student Life and University Influences during the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries. By the Reverend Anson Phelps Stokes, d.d., Secretary of Yale University.

"Two splendid volumes, richly flavored fruit of the recreations of a scholar, commemorate men who for two centuries have been making American history. A gallery of noble characters it is—Yale's Hall of Fame. A monument of the men, their characters and their deeds, it is much more. Their letters and other contemporary records impart to it the realism of active life, depict their college world in its antique color, and mirror the character and manners of their times in many a vivid reminiscence. . . . These volumes, especially as forerunners of those to be looked for from Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, and others, are a work of national consequence."—The Outlook.

BOOK OF THE YALE PAGEANT

THE BOOK OF THE YALE PAGEANT. Edited by George H. Nettleton, ph.d., Professor of English, Yale University.

The Pageant, to be presented in the Yale Bowl on October 21, 1916, is an admirable demonstration of the coöperative work of a great University. The Book of the Pageant represents a grouping of unusual literary material, made possible only by the evident desire on the part of its contributors to make the literary product worthy of Yale's scholarly and artistic reputation.

The book contains a scenario of the Pageant, supplemented by articles illustrating Yale's history. The distinction of its contributors will give it much more than an ephemeral interest, since it has seldom been possible to gather in one volume a more exhaustive exposition of Yale achievements.

CAMPAIGN OF CHANCELLORSVILLE

"This work by an experienced soldier who later became known as the teacher of military science in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and as the author of works on campaigns in Europe and America, is a notable contribution to strategic literature.

We think that no campaign of our civil war has been more accurately, elaborately or ably described than is Chancellorsville in these pages, and soldiers in every land will thank the author for a technical study so satisfactory. . . . The presentation is always clear, and the maps numerous and careful. . . . Altogether, Major Bigelow's work is masterly. Birket, James

SOME CURSORY REMARKS

SOME CURSORY REMARKS. Made by James Birket in His Voyage to North America, 1750-1751. (Yale Historical Publications, Manuscripts and Edited Texts, Vol. IV.)

James Birket was a West Indian merchant and sea-captain living in Antigua. His cursory remarks were made during a trip to North America in 1750-1751 and were apparently presented to his friend Thornton, preparatory to the latter's visit to the United States.

Birket traveled down the Atlantic coast, noting the characteristics of the towns from Portsmouth to Philadelphia. His observations show the mercantile bent of his mind and contain information not easy to obtain elsewhere. Written in the style of a ship's log, it contains observations on the towns of 1750 which are amusingly apt to this day. "The People here," he wrote in New York, "are very gay in their dress." Boston he described as "a large well built town (& by some writers Called a City)."

ALEXANDER HAMILTON. An Essay. By William S. Culbertson, ph.d.

"I take pleasure in approving in heartiest fashion Mr. William S. Culbertson's book on Alexander Hamilton, published by you. It is, in my judgment, one of the best interpretations of the work which Hamilton did in laying the foundations of our nation. Recently my interest in it has been renewed because of the close analogy between many of the problems confronting our nation in Hamilton's day and those confronting our nation today. . . . Hamilton's views on these and other subjects are succinctly and accurately stated in Mr. Culbertson's book. It should be read by all those interested in our national unity and preparedness. I commend it as a book of present and vital interest."

VOYAGE AUX ÉTATS-UNIS DE L'AMÉRIQUE

VOYAGE AUX ÉTATS-UNIS DE L'AMÉRIQUE, 1793-1798. By Moreau de Saint-Méry. Edited, with an Introduction, by Stewart L. Mims, ph.d., Assistant Professor of History, Yale College. (Yale Historical Publications, Manuscripts and Edited Texts, Vol. II.)

"This handsome book is one of the useful series of Yale historical publications, and is of real value. It is interesting to see what the creole historian Moreau had to say about America, where 'the King of Paris during three days' found a refuge until he was enabled to return to France in 1798. A man of culture and a good observer, Moreau was able to see the best and the worst of the country of his exile. . . . He gives due recognition to the omniscience of Franklin, tells much of interest about Washington and Alexander Hamilton, and of the band of illustrious emigres and strangers, which included his crony Talleyrand and Kosciusko."—Scottish Historical Review.

STUDIES IN TAXATION UNDER JOHN AND HENRY III

STUDIES IN TAXATION UNDER JOHN AND HENRY III. By Sydney K. Mitchell, ph.d., Assistant Professor of History, Yale College. (Yale Historical Publications, Studies, Vol. II.)

"Few aspects of constitutional development in the mediæval period of English history are more important than taxation; none has been more sadly neglected by historians. This book represents the first attempt to make a systematic and comprehensive survey of the subject even within a limited period. . . . The author has extended his research over a wide range, and the product is of solid worth. He has performed a substantial service for students of the English constitution. . . . There is no doubt of the soundness of the major portion of Professor Mitchell's work, and his historical honesty is exemplary. His pages are crowded with references to authorities, which enable the reader easily to assure himself about the correctness or fullness of any statement. The book should receive a hearty welcome as a much needed and distinctly important addition to our literature."—W. E. Lunt in the Annals of the American Academy.

OUR MANY-SIDED NAVY

OUR MANY-SIDED NAVY. By Robert Wilden Neeser, Secretary of the Naval History Society.

"It is time that a book like this should appear, that our people may gain an inside and accurate view of their navy, and it is well that the book comes from the pen of an author so exceptionally qualified for his task. . . . The volume is a credit to the Yale University Press. It is copiously illustrated, and is written in a familiar yet engaging style. . . . The book should be widely read, for it tends to correct many popular errors as to what our sailors are and what they are doing, and to justify to some extent the huge sums annually appropriated for their maintenance."—The Nation.

"Whether one be in favor of a large navy, or a little navy, or be so ardent an advocate of the peace doctrine as to want no navy at all, it is surely desirable, since we have a navy, to know something about it. Hitherto it has not been possible for the average citizen to know much more concerning it than he could learn by looking at the stern gray bulk of its ships at anchor, or at pictures of them if he is an inlander, and reading figures about their tonnage, speed and guns. But Robert Wilden Neeser in this volume has humanized the navy and given a very readable answer to the taxpayers' entirely reasonable question, 'What is it good for?'"—New York Times.

A LANDSMAN'S LOG

A LANDSMAN'S LOG. By Robert Wilden Neeser. With an Introduction by Rear-Admiral Charles J. Badger, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

"The book holds the interest of the reader to the very last word. It required no little versatility to be able to devote each day's entry in the log to a different topic or event and at the same time preserve the scrupulous accuracy of the chronicle; yet this is exactly what the author has accomplished. . . . The book is profusely illustrated by photographs taken during the cruise."—The Fleet Review.

"Full of breezy anecdote, apt characterization and judicious comment, indicating no small powers of observation and description. . . . This book should amuse and attract many who take an interest in the man-of-war's man outside and beyond those for whom it was presumably written."—Gazette (London).

"Mr. Newton has devoted to it a great deal of original and valuable research—the material being very extensive, including not only the copious references to the company contained in the mass of documents in private collections that have come to light in recent years, but the complete records of the company which are in the Public Records Office. Amongst other matter of value, the further light thrown on the career of Pym, the prime mover in the undertaking, may be specially noted."—London Times.

No brief review can do justice to the delightful personality of the man as those knew it who were closely associated with him, and which pervades the book like an aroma, revealing itself especially in the judiciously chosen extracts from his correspondence which constitute the major portion of the volume. JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRACY IN NEW ENGLAND

JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRACY IN NEW ENGLAND. By William A. Robinson, ph.d., Assistant Professor of Political Science, Washington University. (Yale Historical Publications, Miscellany, Vol. III.)

The political movement whose growth and activity are discussed by the author have an importance not confined to New England. The process of creating a nation was still in its early stages and the significance of New England's share in it was fully recognized by Jefferson and his advisers.

The author discusses fully the political conditions in New England, the growth of Republicanism party methods, the Federalist reaction, the party basis, Republicanism and religious liberty, the national significance of New England Republicanism and the distribution of the party. The volume includes maps showing the party distribution, a bibliography based very largely on the newspapers of the period and an index.

DIPLOMATIC BACKGROUND OF THE WAR

THE DIPLOMATIC BACKGROUND OF THE WAR, 1870-1914. By Charles Seymour, ph.d., Assistant Professor of History, Yale College.

"It is surprising that at the present stage of events a book so sound and historically so mature could be produced. . . . Manifestly a historic study that is essentially so clear and so well proportioned as this should lead the reader into cool and sane ways of thinking. Such is the case. The account of international struggles which is given in this book 'holds together' so well, is so intelligible and so reasonable, that it seems to exclude prejudice or bitter feeling. And there is also in the author's remarks a quality of tolerance and good sense that deserves to be especially noticed."—North American Review.

"The best book in this particular field that has been written by an American since the war opened. . . . As a summary with style to it, informing and at the same time delighting the reader by its clarity and logic, the book is a credit to the author."—The Christian Science Monitor.

ELECTORAL REFORM IN ENGLAND AND WALES

ELECTORAL REFORM IN ENGLAND AND WALES. The Development and Operation of the Parliamentary Franchise, 1832-1885. By Charles Seymour, ph.d. (Yale Historical Publications, Studies, Vol. III.)

"In this admirable and important book Professor Seymour has traced the history of electoral reform in England during the nineteenth century. He writes clearly and vividly; he has a real appreciation of the technical import of his analysis. His book is a splendid manual for the student of electoral technique. . . . I gladly commend this volume to the propagandist care of every student of proportional representation."—Harold J. Laski in the Ottawa Evening Citizen.

"Mr. Seymour's success with his task is so pronounced that it is easy to give at least four reasons why this volume must at once take front rank among histories of England in the nineteenth century, and in particular among histories of parliament and of parliamentary franchises."—American Political Science Review.

"An excellent book. . . . It was a difficult task, but one which needed much to be done. . . . It is a method involving immense research, the labor of which Professor Seymour has in no way shirked. . . . If the author has all the appearance of being master of his facts, it is not because he enlists them in the service of any preconception or indiscriminately presses them into the obscurity of ready-made categories."—The Nation.

In addition to the necessary equipment of a professor of philosophy—and to a noticeable infusion of influence from Emerson—he possesses a profound and sympathetic comprehension of the greater mystics; and, if it can hardly be claimed for his thesis that, as a whole, it has never been unfolded before, yet it has, in his exposition of it, the authentic quality of originality, of first-hand thought and experience, while in the implications he discovers the student will find things new, suggestive, and demanding to be tested."—The Athenæum.

PORT OF BOSTON

THE PORT OF BOSTON; A Study and a Solution of the Traffic and Operating Problems of Boston, and Its Place in the Competition of the North Atlantic Seaports. By Edwin J. Clapp, ph.d., Professor of Economics, New York University.

"A thorough examination of the terminal possibilities of the port of Boston. With technical knowledge of the facts he computes the various elements which enter into the question of freight traffic, not only in New England but into the extension to the South, the Pacific and the Canadian Northwest, and also examines the transatlantic routes of commerce. He considers the further utilitarian transformation of the once beautiful harbor so as to secure the maximum of practical commercial benefits. Though Professor Clapp's specific study is of the conditions existing at Boston, his method is applicable to any other port. It deserves particular consideration at a time when the impedition of ordinary traffic has become a serious problem."—New York Sun.

GREEK IMMIGRATION TO THE UNITED STATES

THE ECONOMIC UTILIZATION OF HISTORY.

By Henry W. Farnam, m.a., r.p.d., Professor of Economics, Yale University.

"The best thing that can be said of a book is that it is freshly written and stimulatingly conceived. The transatlantic breeze which blows through American books doesn't allow any gray academic ennui to get hold of the reading of this book; life burns too brightly in the walls of that study for metaphysical bias to find a foothold. Perhaps the little book, which is in fact composed of occasional addresses, will expand in a new edition. Its theme is capable of great expansion."—Stephen Bauer in Annals of Political Science and Jurisprudence.

ECONOMIC UTILIZATION OF HISTORY

INDUSTRIAL LEADERSHIP. By H. L. Gantt.

(Page Lectures.)

"This book contains a wealth of sound advice based on a wide and successful experience. As an organizer and administrator Mr. Gantt is doubtless, by reason of seniority and accomplishment, the leading exponent of the principles of scientific management. . . . In this book he lays down the principles of leadership by which he has himself attained the position of leader. The formulation is usually clear and expressed in terms intelligible to the average student or reader. . . . It is 'wisdom literature' for the guidance of men young or old who are engaged in the administration of industrial enterprises, and as such it is to be highly commended."—C. UNDERCURRENTS IN AMERICAN POLITICS

UNDERCURRENTS IN AMERICAN POLITICS. By Arthur Twining Hadley, ph.d., ll.d., President of Yale University. (Ford Lectures delivered at Oxford University, and the Barbour-Page Lectures delivered at the University of Virginia.)

"The treatment is characterized by broad, well-balanced judgment, and represents an order of political thinking and writing of which in the United States today there are too few examples. His survey . . . of the growth of national sentiment and national political conceptions is particularly instructive."—Springfield Republican.

"It is always an experience to read Professor Hadley's books. What he says is said crisply and with a just sense of limitations. Professor Hadley has the gift of seeing things in the mass. The picture he draws is not blurred with irrelevant detail. As I read his books I experience the intellectual shock which comes with the sense of a discovery. . . . The book is candid, fair-spoken, interesting and stimulating."—New Republic.

THE DRAMA OF SAVAGE PEOPLES. By Loomis Havemeyer, ph.d., Instructor in Anthropology and Geography in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

Havemeyer, Loomis
THE DRAMA OF SAVAGE PEOPLES

In the study of social evolution, Frazer has done much with the early history of religion, Westermarck with marriage and Tylor with culture. Here for the first time Mr. Havemeyer has laid the emphasis on drama. Tracing its origin back to the mimetic action and gesture language of primitive people, he follows its development through their religious, initiation and war ceremonies to the pleasure plays of savage peoples.

In an interesting chapter, he compares the savage drama with that of the Greeks and Japanese, showing that the ceremonies and dramatic rites of people on a lower stage of culture appear in the legends, myths and plays of higher civilization.

CONDITIONS OF PROGRESS IN DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. By Charles Evans Hughes, Republican Candidate for President of the United States. (Dodge Lectures.)

Hughes, Charles Evans
PROGRESS IN DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

"We cordially recommend the book to be read by every person who thinks seriously about politics. It is quite different from all other books on the subject."—Oxford Magazine.

"Unquestionably the discussion of our political life by a man of very exceptional authority. . . . It is singularly clear and comprehensive in its statement of the actual conditions existing in our political life and the practical problems which the citizen must face. It is also singularly impartial and reasonable in its analysis of the functions of parties and the relations which the citizen should hold toward them. Indeed, we should say that this little volume might with great advantage be used in every college as a manual of instruction in political duty, for it is at once informative and inspiring."—New York Times.

LIBERTY AND DISCIPLINE. A Talk to Freshmen. By A. Lawrence Lowell, ll.d., ph.d., President of Harvard University.

Speaking to young men entering upon their college careers during the greatest war of history, President Lowell made an eloquent plea for the right use of their liberty. His advice is best expressed in his own words, when he says:

"The man who uses his liberty to put forth his utmost effort in college and throughout his life, not only does his duty, but is helping to make freedom itself successful. He is working for a great principle of human progress. He is fighting the battle of liberty and securing its victory in the civilization of mankind."

THE LIBERTY OF CITIZENSHIP. By Hon. Samuel W. McCall, ll.d., Governor of Massachusetts. (Dodge Lectures.)

"In the four short essays comprising the volume is to be found a profound philosophy expressed in such perfect diction that English literature would have been poorer for their loss. Here is a book that must be ranked, for classroom purposes, with the best of Fiske, and Walter Raleigh's classic on the early English voyages, one which, moreover, may be studied with equal profit by the student of political economy and language, so clear and illuminating is the thought and so simple the style."—Boston Transcript.

SOCIETY AND PRISONS

SOCIETY AND PRISONS; Some Suggestions for a New Penology. By Thomas Mott Osborne, Warden of Sing Sing Prison. (Dodge Lectures.)

Through long experience in Junior Republic work with boys, Mr. Osborne confirmed his conviction that human beings are best developed through self-government. He has now tested this theory in the larger field of prison administration and here again he has more than proved the value of his system of penal reform.

Under the headings: Crime and Criminals, Courts and Punishments, The Old Prison System, The New Prison System, Present and Future, Mr. Osborne has summarized his theories and the results of his experience in regard to "The New Penology."

It requires no imagination to find in his chapters the interest of the five acts of a drama—so clearly does the description of the Mutual Welfare League, established under Mr. Osborne's direction at Auburn and Sing Sing prisons, offer the solution of the faults of the old prison system, depicted in the first chapters.

They are marked by an exceptional largeness of view and by a full knowledge of contemporary needs. They embody the ripe suggestions of a well-informed and public-spirited lawyer as to the best means of improving existing conditions. They are readable and scholarly, the product of a mind too thoughtful and alert to fall into any sin of platitude or prejudice. The completeness with which a survey of the relation of the American judiciary to the people can be presented in so few pages is really astonishing. WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE BY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. By Henry St. George Tucker. (Storrs Lectures.)

Tucker, Henry St. George
WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

The author does not attempt to discuss the claim of women to suffrage. His object is rather to show that the attempt to bring about the right of suffrage for women by an amendment to the Constitution of the United States is opposed to the genius of the instrument itself, and subversive of one of the most important principles incorporated in it.

His is a very clear-cut expression of the feeling of a large number of prominent American citizens and cannot fail to be of value to men and women interested in the question, on whichever side they may find their sympathies.

"Bracton is a work of the very highest value for the theme. The little but important world that these questions interest has been praying for years that someone might undertake Professor Woodbine's task. Now the man has come. Backed by a generous gift of money he makes the more splendid one of his life. For he has already devoted years and expects to devote many more to bringing his work to an end. Yale School of Law

The School of Law of Yale University has announced its intention of publishing through the Yale University Press a series of works bearing upon the history and development of the Common Law under the general title of

PUBLICATIONS OF THE YALE SCHOOL OF LAW
EARLY ENGLISH LAW TEXTS

This series will be under the general editorship of Dr. George E. Woodbine, whose qualifications for the task have already been amply demonstrated in his scholarly editions of "Four Thirteenth Century Law Tracts," and "Bracton: De Legibus et Consuetudinibus Angliæ"—the former having been published by the Yale University Press in 1910 and the first volume of the Bracton having appeared last year.

The first volumes of the series now announced will be devoted to new editions of early legal treatises. Dr. Woodbine already has two volumes in preparation:

RANULF DE GLANVILLE. Tractatus de Legibus et Consuetudinibus Regni Angliæ.

RALPH DE HENGHAM. Summæ, Magna et Parva. (Together with several shorter tracts from the same period.)

It is expected that the volumes will be issued during the year 1917. Later, a new edition of "Fleta" is contemplated, as well as Fortescue's "De Laudibus."

Through the medium of this series it is planned to meet the long-felt want of legal scholars and historians for more accurate and better-edited texts of most of the early treatises. It is also planned to render accessible by publication a part of the almost untouched stores of valuable and as yet unpublished material dealing with early English Law.

"It is a boon to astronomers to possess a book by such a master hand. . . . The photographically registered observations of the radial velocities of stars that have been obtained at the coöperating observatories over which Professor Campbell exercises control are thoroughly and ably discussed with reference to the solution of the problems of solar motion, stellar motions as related to stellar distances and spectral types, spectroscopic binaries, and eclipsing variable stars. The impression left on our mind by a perusal of the work is that it will prove a veritable mine."—Journal of the British Astronomical Association.

PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN GEOLOGY. (DELIVERED ON THE SILLIMAN FOUNDATION.) THE CONTENTS INCLUDE: THE GEOLOGY OF JAMES DWIGHT DANA BY WILLIAM NORTH RICE; PROBLEMS OF THE CANADIAN SHIELD: THE ARCHÆOZOIC BY FRANK D. ADAMS AND THE PROTEROZOIC BY ARTHUR P. COLEMAN; PROBLEMS OF THE CORDILLERAS: THE CAMBRIAN AND ITS PROBLEMS BY CHARLES D. WALCOTT AND THE IGNEOUS GEOLOGY AND ITS PROBLEMS BY WALDEMAR LINDGREN; THE TERTIARY OROGENY AND ITS PROBLEMS BY FREDERICK LESLIE RANSOME; THE TERTIARY SEDIMENTARY RECORD AND ITS PROBLEMS BY WILLIAM D. MATTHEW.

"Phases and phenomena of science are presented and handled by capable men, who assay the ore offered by the latest discoveries and deductions. They reconstruct the past from its relics in the present, and read the record of the heroic ages as it lies graven in the hieroglyphs of nature's adamantine pages. The illustrations comprise maps and charts, both rare and typical formations, and sketches of bones and interesting restorations. The volume serves to publish a large amount of accurate information that carries light to many of the darker passages of our stratiform records."—Scientific American.

WILD LIFE CONSERVATION

WILD LIFE CONSERVATION IN THEORY AND PRACTICE. BY WILLIAM T. HORNADAY, SC.D., Director of the New York Zoölogical Park. WITH A CHAPTER AND BIBLIOGRAPHY BY FREDERIC C. WALCOTT.

"A valuable course of lectures. . . . The language is as forcible and racy as an American with a good cause can make it, and we do not need the author's assurance that he personally has 'no axe to grind' in the task which he has set himself. . . . That by criminal folly a colossal heritage has been wantonly squandered none can gainsay, but on the other side of the picture the splendid efforts of an enlightened few have in recent years launched a scheme of systematic reparation on a scale which can only excite the envy and amazement of all who are working along similar lines in England. The illustrations are telling. Mr. Walcott has contributed an eminently practical chapter on 'Private Game Preserves as Factors in Conservation.'"—The Athenæum.

CIVILIZATION AND CLIMATE

CIVILIZATION AND CLIMATE. BY ELLSWORTH HUNTINGTON, PH.D., AUTHOR OF "THE PULSE OF ASIA."

"The value of the book must not be underestimated. . . . Professor Huntington has arrayed an imposing host of facts and statistics that show beyond a doubt that climate has a great effect on energy and so on civilization."—Springfield Republican.

"Mr. Huntington is a scientific man who has contrived to discard the jargon of science. He writes clearly and picturesquely, and the studious layman will find his book a delight to read."—London Times.

"The books and papers of Dr. Ellsworth Huntington constitute a continued story of breathless interest. . . . Dr. Huntington is a geographer, but his conception of geography is a broad one. With equal justice he might be rated an historian, for he has illuminated history by showing how it may be interpreted in terms of man's physical environment. . . . Climate explains, in a large measure, the existing distribution of civilization and human efficiency, and needs to be reckoned with more consciously than it has been heretofore in the economic and political arrangements of mankind."—Review of Reviews.

PROBLEM OF VOLCANISM

THE PROBLEM OF VOLCANISM. By Joseph P. Iddings, ph.b., sc.d. (Silliman Memorial Lectures.)

"For the science of vulcanology no better representative could possibly have been found than Dr. Iddings, and no more striking illustration of the progress of investigation and theory could be given than his discussion of the problem. . . . Every outstanding branch of the inquiry meets with full and sympathetic treatment at the hands of the author. Nowhere, to our knowledge, can there be found an account, so complete and illuminating, of all the varied lines of research bearing on the subject under discussion. A word of praise must be added for the numerous and beautiful illustrations, while the printing of the work exhibits all those excellences which we are accustomed to find in scientific works issued in the United States."—Nature.

BASIS OF NUTRITION

THE FUNDAMENTAL BASIS OF NUTRITION. By Graham Lusk, ph.d., Professor of Physiology, Cornell University Medical College, and Scientific Director of the Russell Sage Institute of Pathology.

"Valuable treatise on a very live subject. . . . The author has evidently made a careful and wide research of the subjects with which he deals, and presents his conclusions in popular rather than professorial language. His style is terse and readable; his statements deserving of wide perusal and earnest thought."—Journal of Education.

"A valuable little book. . . . If one were fortunate enough to have a government by the people for the people, then Lusk's book, of which only 1500 copies have been printed, would be issued at Washington by the million and a copy sent gratis to each citizen."—Chicago Medical Recorder.

CONSERVATION OF WATER. By Walter McCulloh, Civil Engineer at Niagara Falls. (Chester S. Lyman Lectures delivered at Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.)

"At a time when the question of our water resources and a national policy regarding them is becoming a matter of increasing importance this book is very opportune. For all readers who are interested in water resources and related problems it is a book that can be read with profit. It should be of especial value to the non-technical man who desires a broad understanding of the engineering principles involved."—R. L. Daugherty in Science.

CHANGES IN FOOD SUPPLY

CHANGES IN THE FOOD SUPPLY AND THEIR RELATION TO NUTRITION. By Lafayette B. Mendel, ph.d., sc.d., Professor of Physiological Chemistry in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

"This conception of such an important economic problem is a new one and one which merits closer thought than usually given to it. The author discusses his subject in a most presentable manner. In dealing with the subject of food energy Dr. Mendel utters thoughts which are fit fodder for mental nourishment."—American Journal of the Medical Sciences.

"Professor Mendel discusses our changing customs in diet, our changing industrial and social conditions in regard to food supply and nutrition. He shows how the demand for more varied diet is supplied by advance in food transportation and preservation. It is a highly informing little essay, written by a scientist in such language that it can be read with pleasure and profit by the laity."—Boston Herald.

CONSERVATION OF WATER

CONSERVATION OF WATER BY STORAGE. By George Fillmore Swain, LL.D., Gordon McKay Professor of Civil Engineering, Harvard University. (Chester S. Lyman Lectures delivered at Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.)

"It is the most masterly, comprehensive and authoritative deliverance on the general subject of the Conservation of Water by Storage that has ever appeared, and the chapters particularly devoted to the water power question, in which the author is a recognized leading expert, are most timely in view of the large amount of irrelevant talk and political bias that has characterized much of this important economic question. . . . An illuminating summary highly instructive and suggestive to those who have already studied the subject, and of the greatest value to the man or woman who is seeking light on this great national question."—Henry S. ELECTRICITY AND MATTER

ELECTRICITY AND MATTER. By Joseph John Thomson, D.SC., LL.D., F.R.S., Fellow of Trinity College and Cavendish Professor of Experimental Physics, Cambridge University. (Silliman Memorial Lectures.)

"The work is an admirable example of the best kind of scientific writing in its clearness and conciseness. The treatment is necessarily mathematical in its nature, but all detailed analysis is omitted and only results are quoted. It is possible, therefore, for any one who has a slight knowledge of general physics, though he may be entirely ignorant of mathematical processes, to appreciate almost to the full, the attractive ideas advanced and the cogent logic by which they are supported, while the more serious student will find many illuminating suggestions which might well have been hidden in a cloud of symbols. In short, Professor Thomson's book is one which no one who takes the slightest interest in contemporary science can possibly afford to leave unread."—The Athenæum.

Every physician who wishes to keep abreast with this important development in physiology should take advantage of the opportunity offered by Underhill to obtain the necessary information in so concise, inexpensive and readable a treatise."—Journal of the American Medical Association.

IRRITABILITY

IRRITABILITY. A Physiological Analysis of the General Effect of Stimuli in Living Substance. By Max Verworn, m.d., ph.d., Professor at Bonn Physiological Institute. (Silliman Memorial Lectures.)

"The whole work is singularly suggestive, and presents the author's views with a lucidity which leaves little to be desired. The subject of so-called general physiology receives in this exposition a handsome and in many ways an original contribution to its already rich stores of facts, the author's aim being to infuse uniformity into the heterogeneous mass of isolated observations. He has succeeded in no small degree in his aim. We thank him most cordially for his graphic, interesting, and philosophic contribution to the literature of 'Irritability.'"—The Lancet.

HEALTH OF SCHOOL CHILD

THE MENTAL HEALTH OF THE SCHOOL CHILD; The Psycho-Educational Clinic in Relation to Child Welfare. By J. E. Wallace Wallin, ph.d., Director of Psycho-Educational Clinic, Board of Education of the City of St. Louis.

"Dr. Wallin has made elaborate and adequate studies of abnormal children and this account of the results of these studies is of great service to parents, social workers, and physicians, but most of all to teachers, principals, and superintendents. It is invaluable as a guide in diagnosing, identifying, studying, and training feeble-minded and backward school children. . . . He knows how to gather material, wholly unavailable hitherto, how to marshal it skillfully and use it artistically. He is a scholar with a vision who wastes no time on mere dreams, who never has a nightmare, but whose life and study are realization of visions. . . . 'Safety first' was never more appropriate as a slogan than in the child study of the day. All honor to Yale University for giving this remarkable book to the professional world. The new era of publication at Yale of which this is one of the best fruits means more to the cause of education than anything that university has done in recent years."—Journal of Education.

The book is for children, and is dedicated "To All the Holy Guardian Angels, especially my own, forgotten often but forgetful never." This sweetly expresses that it is a story of Guardian Angels, but particularly of how one protected "Nelly and Marjory"—a true incident. The story is wholesome and interesting, and incidentally emphasizes the Church's teaching regarding protecting care of our Angel guardians. Either edition will make a very pretty gift book.

The Rider Press

As printers of the Trade List Annual, as well as the Publishers' Weekly, Library Journal, and other publications of the R. R. Bowker Co., with which we are affiliated, we are experts in bibliographical composition.

Catalogs, with their finicky composition and extra-accurate proof-reading are an every-day matter with us; we have special equipment to handle them and can keep our charges moderate where the average printer has to ask "two prices" to come out even. Why not let us estimate on your catalog or book circular matter?

On long runs of press work which is not immediate, but may be "fitted in" between our periodical publications, we are able to quote prices that will surprise you.
